Mexico.

My dear General:

(Personal)

I am taking this opportunity of extending to you my congratulations upon your election to the Presidency of Mexico and the triumph of the cause it signifies.

You will recall me as having secured from you in Nogales last September the extensive interview which was published in the Hearst newspapers throughout the United States and which I have always felt served an important purpose in bringing to millions of Americans a better understanding of your personality and your policies for the future of Mexico, particularly in reference to international relations. Since I visited you in Nogales I have resigned from the Hearst service to enter the motion picture profession as the New York representative of a large Los Angeles cinema concern. I have however, maintained a lively interest in the newspaper profession which I followed for so many years and have watched with close attention the turbulent evolution of affairs in Mexico from which you have now emerged so successfully.

I trust that your Administration will mark a new and glorious era of peace and prosperity in the history of Mexico and that your friends and admirers will continue always to have occasion to regard you, as they said in Nogales, as "The Man with The Lucky Star."

With best wishes for your good health and happiness, I am,

Yours sincerely,

Howard E. Marton
