Dear Dr. Cosío Villegas:

Since we are handling the travel arrangements in this office Mr. Wolff has forwarded your letter to us. I would have written early this week had I not been called out of the office. I hasten to write you. We need to know which airline you contemplate using from Mexico to New York so that the Wright Travel Agency can communicate with them and cable your ticket. Could you send me this information as quickly as possible to avoid further delay?

We are suggesting that participants who are coming from long distances either leave a day early and stop en route for a good night's rest, or arrive early in Rome (or Milan if you so choose)--a day early, I mean--and have a good night's rest there so that you will be able to get somewhat accustomed to the change in time before the meetings. The Council will of course reimburse you for any hotel bills, meals, and transportation that you have en route. We do believe that the extra day would be a great help and well worth the money involved. If you plan to arrive either in Milan or Rome early in the morning we suggest that you have the airline or your travel agent reserve your room beginning the evening before your arrival so that you will be assured to having access to it the moment you arrive. Mr. Herring has found that without this protection it is often noon before he can have use of the room, so we regularly guarantee the reservation for the evening preceding early arrival.

Mr. Wolff asked me to tell you that only English will be used.

We shall hope to hear from you very soon regarding the airline from Mexico and your general routing so that Wright Travel may issue the ticket. It will be cabled immediately upon hearing from you.

Sincerely yours,

Margaret T. Stoddard
Secretary to Mr. Herring

Mr. Wolff will soon make definite arrangements about the drive to Frascati
