Dear Mr. Castellanos,
You won't know who I am when you start reading this letter, but by the time you finish I hope that you will.

My name is Ted Holbert, and I live in Sussex, New Jersey. Where, I believe you used to live. You probably know my mother and dad, and my uncle, Fritz Lawrence, and of course Dr. Haggerty who gave me your address down here in Mexico.

I am working for a company which takes people on trips through Mexico. I was down here in Mexico last month, but was unable to get a hold of you in Mexico City, so when I was home last week I got your address from Dr. Haggerty who wanted me to be sure to see you.

Last month, however, I was driving every day, and didn't have much time. This month though I only drive on week ends and am free all week mon. through Friday. If you should get a chance to come in and see me, please do. If I don't happen to be at the Villa International, you could go to the Carlton Hotel and ask for Mr. Taylor or some one connected with Mexican Journeys and they could probably tell you where you could find me.

At any rate, you could write me a letter and let me know if and when you could come in.

Sincerely,

Ted Holbert
