Dear

Mr. Cesar Villegas

Mr. E. M. Bernstein, who made a unique contribution to the genesis and early evolution of the International Monetary Fund, turns 70 this December. His many friends at the Fund want to make sure that the occasion is appropriately celebrated.

We plan to have a warm and friendly party for him at the Fund in the evening of Tuesday, December 17. We are inviting persons throughout the world who have worked with Mr. Bernstein or in the field to which he has contributed so much to participate in this party or to send him a message if they cannot.

We would be very pleased, and we know that Mr. Bernstein would be more than pleased, if you (or you and your spouse) would be able to come. You will find details concerning our party in the enclosed paper. An early reply would be appreciated.

Yours sincerely,
