Honorable A. Obregon,
President of the Republic of Mexico,
Mexico City.

My dear Mr. President:-

I am enclosing a few additional copies of the photographs I had the pleasure of taking of you and your party when you were visiting at Dallas, Texas, a few weeks ago. As a souvenir of your visit to Texas, I am also enclosing a few prints showing portions of the foot ball game between the Universities of Texas and Oklahoma. If you desire any additional copies of these photographs, I shall deem it a pleasure to send you as many as you wish, upon receipt of your reply.

Officially, I am charge of all exhibit work in the State of Louisiana, and if you have an annual exposition in Mexico City at any time, and it would be the pleasure of your people to secure an exhibit from Louisiana, I shall be very glad to do my part to prepare and personally conduct such an exhibit, upon receipt of an invitation from you. May I informally offer the suggestion that a large international exposition, held in Mexico City, and participated in by the United States Government and her several States would serve, in a large measure, to solidify the friendly relations that exist between our respective republics. United States Government for the past ten years, and I feel that I have had the opportunity to see the value of international expositions as very helpful mediums for the establishment of friendly social, economic, agricultural and business relations between the various participating countries. Now that the world is assuming normal conditions, and everyone is anxious to forget the past few years of unrest, we who are in a position to do so should encourage every means of establishing peace and friendly relations between powers. And, as I have hereinbefore suggested, international expositions have most wonderful effects in accomplishing these ends. If I can be of personal service to your Government in this connection at any time, I shall be very glad to hear from you.

I appreciate the honor of having made your acquaintance, and I hope that we shall meet again. Accept my sincere good wishes for your continued success, and believe me .

Very truly yours,

Specialist in Exhibits for the
