My dear Sir:

I am collecting statements on what should be included in

Plans for Peace and the Postwar World from as many people in Mexico as possible and I am coming to you for help.

1. Please send me a few paragraphs of your own on this subject.
2. Kindly tell me who may be compiling a bibliography on it.
3. Please name reviews published in Mexico that will probably carry articles on this subject now or later.
4. I should like to know the names of men and societies that make a speciality of discussing this subject.

The purpose is to collect as many statements as possible and to place them in the hands of committees who are framing national policy. I have been told this is to be a very valuable service, for we want to know fully the currents of thought in Mexico on this whole matter.

For your kindness in this matter I shall be extremely grateful. Pamphlets and speeches sent me will be placed in the Library.

My dear Sir:

I have just read about the excellent plan for discussion of war and post war problems at El Colegio de Mexico under your very capable administration. This leads me to tell you that I and collecting statements from important Mexican personages on and I want to ask for your aid.

1. Who is making in Mexico a bibliography on this subject?
2. Who is going about giving lectures on this subject?
3. What organization has been set up to make this the principal subject of discussion?

You see, I am following the daily papers and the reviews, examining speeches and looking everywhere for specific comments and proposals about this subject. I want to have as many quotations from as many Latin Americans as I can possibly collect during the months to come.

This material will be given the widest publicity possible, perhaps through a Committee in Washington, so as to influence the policy makers in this country. We must know very much in detail about what the Mexican people want to see included in the postwar plans.

I shall be deeply grateful to/for giving my request your attention. Any materials you send me will be taken to The Library on International Relations in this city where I make my headquarters.

Very sincerely yours,

Member, The Foreign Policy
Association
