Dear Professor Emerson:

We would like to inform you that for twenty-two years there has existed in Mexico City a non-profit, private institution dedicated to higher education and to research work in the field of humanities and in some of the social sciences. Its name is El Colegio de México and it is directed by a group of well known personalities.

El Colegio de México has been publishing for thirteen years, besides its teaching and research activities, a hispanic, literary and philological review and a historical one, for ten years. It intends now to initiate a quarterly publication on international affairs.

This, of course, would be a periodical devoted to give to the Spanish-speaking readers, that is to say, to Spain and to the nineteen Latin-American countries, a notion of their own international problems and of those of the main nations or regions of the world. These problems are not only juridical, but political, economic, social and cultural as well.

The

The review would have an initial section dedicated to the publication of articles, of an average length of 4,500 to 9,000 words, in which a particular subject or theme, the presentation of which could be of international interest, would be dealt with. It would have a book-review section and another of documents, where those which could have a notable international repercussion would be reproduced.

El Colegio de México intends to pay the contributions it publishes: it offers a fee of 40 American dollars for an article, and from 10 to 20 dollars for a book-review, according to its extent. El Colegio does not pretend to acquire through these payments exclusive literary rights, that is to say, in all languages, but only in the Spanish language. In this manner, the authors who write in a language other than the Spanish, would be free to use those same articles for publications in reviews or periodicals in their own language.

El Colegio de México would like to invite you most heartily to send a contribution, perhaps on some of the topics you usually cover in your courses, as, for example, Some aspect of Government and Policy in Southeast Asia. We would like you to consider yourself a permanent collaborator of its periodical, so that you may send, without further invitation, those articles and book-reviews that may come forth from your habitual work or activity, with the certainty that they will be most welcomed.

El Colegio de México would also appreciate very much if you could indicate to us the name and address of friends or colleagues of yours, whom you consider liable to be interested in cooperating with us.

In the hope of hearing from you soon, we remain.

Sincerely yours

Dear Mr. Cosío Villegas:

I was very much interested to learn from your letter of November 30 that El Colegio de México is going to start a quarterly publication on international affairs. At present I am too much committed to the writing of other articles to make it possible for me to take on anything now but I will be glad to remember that your review might be interested in an article.

I should like to suggest the name of my colleague, John N. Plank, who has for a number of years been particularly interested in Latin America and has visited a number of Latin American countries.

Sincerely yours,

Rupert Emerson

Dear Professor Emerson:

Thanks so much for your kind letter of December 22nd.

If you are writing some articles for
--I suppose-- some American journal, why don't you consider the possibility of ordering extra carbon copy and send it for its translation and publication in Spanish in our Journal?
Although I have no idea what are they about, I presume they could be of interest to our readers. If you could let me know the subjects and probable date for your having them ready,
I could have a better opinion.

I am writing, as you suggest, to Professor Plank.

Yours sincerely.

Dear Mr. Cosío Villegas:

I have recently written an article on American interests in Africa for the Centennial Review of Arts and Science. The editor of this journal assures me that he would be unconcerned if you happened to take an interest in it for publication in Mexico.

I am therefore sending you a copy of the article herewith for such use as you may care to make of it.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Professor Emerson:

Very thoughtfull of you to have sent me a copy of your recent article on American Interests in Africa. It fits nicely within the purposes of our journal and with our earnest hope to give our readers as complete an international outlook as possible.

Please find herewith a Boston draft for $40.00 and kindly returned duly signed the attache receipt.

With best wishes,

Yours sincerely

Dear Professor Emerson:

I am sending you under separate cover a copy of the first issue of FORO INTERNATIONAL, the journal on international affairs you have so graciously contribute to.

I hope that you find our journal worthy of your contribution, which will appear shortly in it.

Yours cordially,

Daniel Cosío Villegas
