Dear Professor Sato:

We would like to inform you that for twenty-two years there has existed in Mexico City a non-profit, private institution dedicated to higher education and to research work in the field of humanities and in some of the social sciences. Its name is El Colegio de México and it is directed by a group of well known personalities.

El Colegio de México has been publishing for thirteen years, besides its teaching and research activities, a hispanic, literary and philological review and a historical one, for ten years. It intends now to initiate a quarterly publication on international affairs.

This, of course, would be a periodical devoted to give to the Spanish-speaking readers, that is to say, to Spain and to the nineteen Latin-American countries, a notion of their own international problems and of those of the main nations or regions of the world. These problems are not only juridical, but political, economic, social and cultural as well.

The review would have an initial section dedicated to the publication of articles, of an average length of 4,500 to 9,000 words, in which a particular subject or theme, the presentation of which could be of international interest, would be dealt with. It would have a book-review section and another of documents, where those which could have a notable international repercussion would be reproduced.

El Colegio de México intends to pay the contributions it publishes: it offers a fee of 40 American dollars for an article, and from 10 to 20 dollars for a book-review, according to its extent. El Colegio does not pretend to acquire through these payments exclusive literary rights, that is to say, in all languages, but only in the Spanish language. In this manner, the authors who write in a language other than the Spanish, would be free to use those same articles for publications in reviews or periodicals in their own language. In the same manner, if you are planning to deliver an article or book-review for a journal of your own language, you may order a carbon copy of it to be sent to us for consideration.

El Colegio de México would like to invite you most heartily to send a contribution, perhaps on some of the topics you usually cover in your courses. We would like you to consider yourself a permanent collaborator of its periodical, so that you may send, without further invitation, those articles and book-reviews that may come from your habitual work or activity, with the certainty that they will be most welcomed.

El Colegio de México would also appreciate very much if you could indicate to us the name and address of friends or colleagues of yours whom you consider liable to be interested in cooperating with us.

In the hope of hearing from you soon, we remain,

Sincerely yours

Dear Dr. Villegas :

I wish to express my deep appreciation to your kind invitation to contribute to your honorable " El Colegio de Mexico " and to become a permanent collaborator with your activities. It is a great pleasure and happiness to open a contact with Spanish speaking people in the world. This summer I could visit the United States, Montreal, London, Paris, Bonn, India, Australia, Djakarta, Bangkok, and Hongkong for four months, giving lectures on Zen and other topics. It was also a great pleasure for me to have met with Professor Germain of Madrid and invite him to join the Advisory Board of our journal in English " Psychologia - An International Journal of Psychology in the Orient -.

2 I hope to write an article on " Zen and Psychology " very soon, and add some other articles or book reviews from Japan in the line of your activities. I will select the topic by the interests of your readers, and I shall be happy if you give some suggestions.

I must apologize to you by the delay of my reply due to my traveling round the world. I hope to be able to visit Mexico in 1963, when the 17th International Congress of Psychology will be held in New York or Washington, D.C.

Yours sincerely,

Koji Sato

Dear Professor Sato:

Thank you for your letter of October 14.

We were delighted to learn that in the near - future you will be able to send us an article. In view of the recent interest of the occidental world in Zen, its theme would appear to be very opportune.

We take the liberty of sending you under separate cover the first issue of Foro Internacional, and hope that you will show it to friends or colleagues who might be interested in collaborating with our journal. As you know, our subject matter embraces all aspects of a country's culture which may - have international implications, including its social, literary political, juridical and economic manifestations.

We hope that you will avail yourself of your nearest opportunity to visit Mexico. Meanwhile, we look forward to reading your article.

Sincerely yours,

Daniel Cosío Villegas.
