Arrival of New York officers was awaited here yesterday by local authorities holding Ernest Desmond, also known as Ernest De Hagen and Lord Desmond, in connection with Eastern charges of larceny and extortion involving, among others, the son of Al Smith, Democratic leader.

According to a communication to Capt. Jack Trainor of the fugitive detail from Acting Chief Inspector John S. Lyons of New York, Desmond, since his arrest here, has been indicted on charges of larceny of more than $35,000 from Mrs. Susan McKelroy.

The woman, who is reported to have told a grand jury that Desmond posed as a doctor and gave her medical treatments, is the widow of the former president of the Anniston, Ala., National Bank, who also was a former president of the Southern Bankers Association.

Desmond was arrested on an earlier charge of extorting $5000 from Pietro Aria in New York County on March 1, 1934. He has waived extradition, police said, but denies any wrongdoing.

OIL SPOT SIGHTED ON RIVER

PORTLAND, Ore., June 28.—(AP)—Flyers searching for the missing airplane of Mrs. Alyce Pashburg and Miss Irma Westover of Portland, sighted the wreckage of an airplane atop Archer Mountain, 14 miles northeast of Camas, Wash., today.

SPOKANE, June 28.—(AP)—Army and civilian flyers hunted along the Columbia Gorge today for two missing women flyers, fearing that a murky oil splotch on the surface of the Columbia River, near Multnomah Falls, might be a tragic clew to their fate.

The missing pair, Mrs. Alyce Pashburg and Miss Irma Westover, both of Portland, vanished yesterday after taking off from Vancouver, for the All-women's Air Frolic here.

Radio checkups revealed nothing of their fate. They were not seen at any airport along the 300-mile route.

SIGHT OIL SPOT

Lieut. H. A. Reynolds, of the Army Air Corps, reported sighting the oil spot. He described it as "an unusual formation," but said darkness prevented him from closely investigating it.

A gasoline truck waited yesterday morning at the Pasco, Wash., airport, midway between Portland and Spokane, to deliver a fuel order to the women's plane. They never arrived. Airport Manager R. George Darke said he was sure the plane never was in the vicinity or he would have heard it.

Mrs. Pashburg had said at Portland that they would fly straight through to Spokane if the tank still contained plenty of gasoline at Pasco.

Windy conditions, with the atmosphere churned full of dust, led air show officials to believe the two women set down their plane for an emergency landing. But fears grew as the hours passed with no report.

Mrs. Pashburg, the more experienced pilot of the missing pair, is secretary to the manager of a Portland department store. Miss Westover is an Oregon state police stenographer.

Later Seen Riding in Auto on Way to Near-by Town; Police Warned to Be on Lookout

TOWSON, Md., June 28.—(AP)—Representative Marion A. Zioncheck, turbulent Congressman from Seattle, Wash., scaled a wall and escaped today from Sheppard Pratt Hospital to which he was committed on June 23 for rest and observation.

Dr. Arthur E. Pattrell, assistant superintendent of the institution for the treatment of mental and nervous disorders, confirmed the escape.

He said the Congressman broke away while walking in the large estate at the hospital. Before he could be detained, Doctor Pattrell said, he leaped over the fence and disappeared in a surrounding wooded area.

SEEN IN AUTO

He was reported seen later riding in an automobile in the direction of nearby Ellicott City, the assistant superintendent said. Police at that place were asked to be on the lookout for Zioncheck.

Filling station keepers had been asked earlier to warn motorists not to pick up anyone who might be the escaped Congressman. Residents of the community were asked to be on the lookout for the Congressman. Zioncheck fled from the hospital shortly before noon, the hospital announced.

Pattrell and other officials of the hospital were so occupied with efforts to locate Zioncheck that they found it difficult to find time to give details of his getaway.

Dr. Ross McClure Chapman, superintendent, was said to be out of the city.

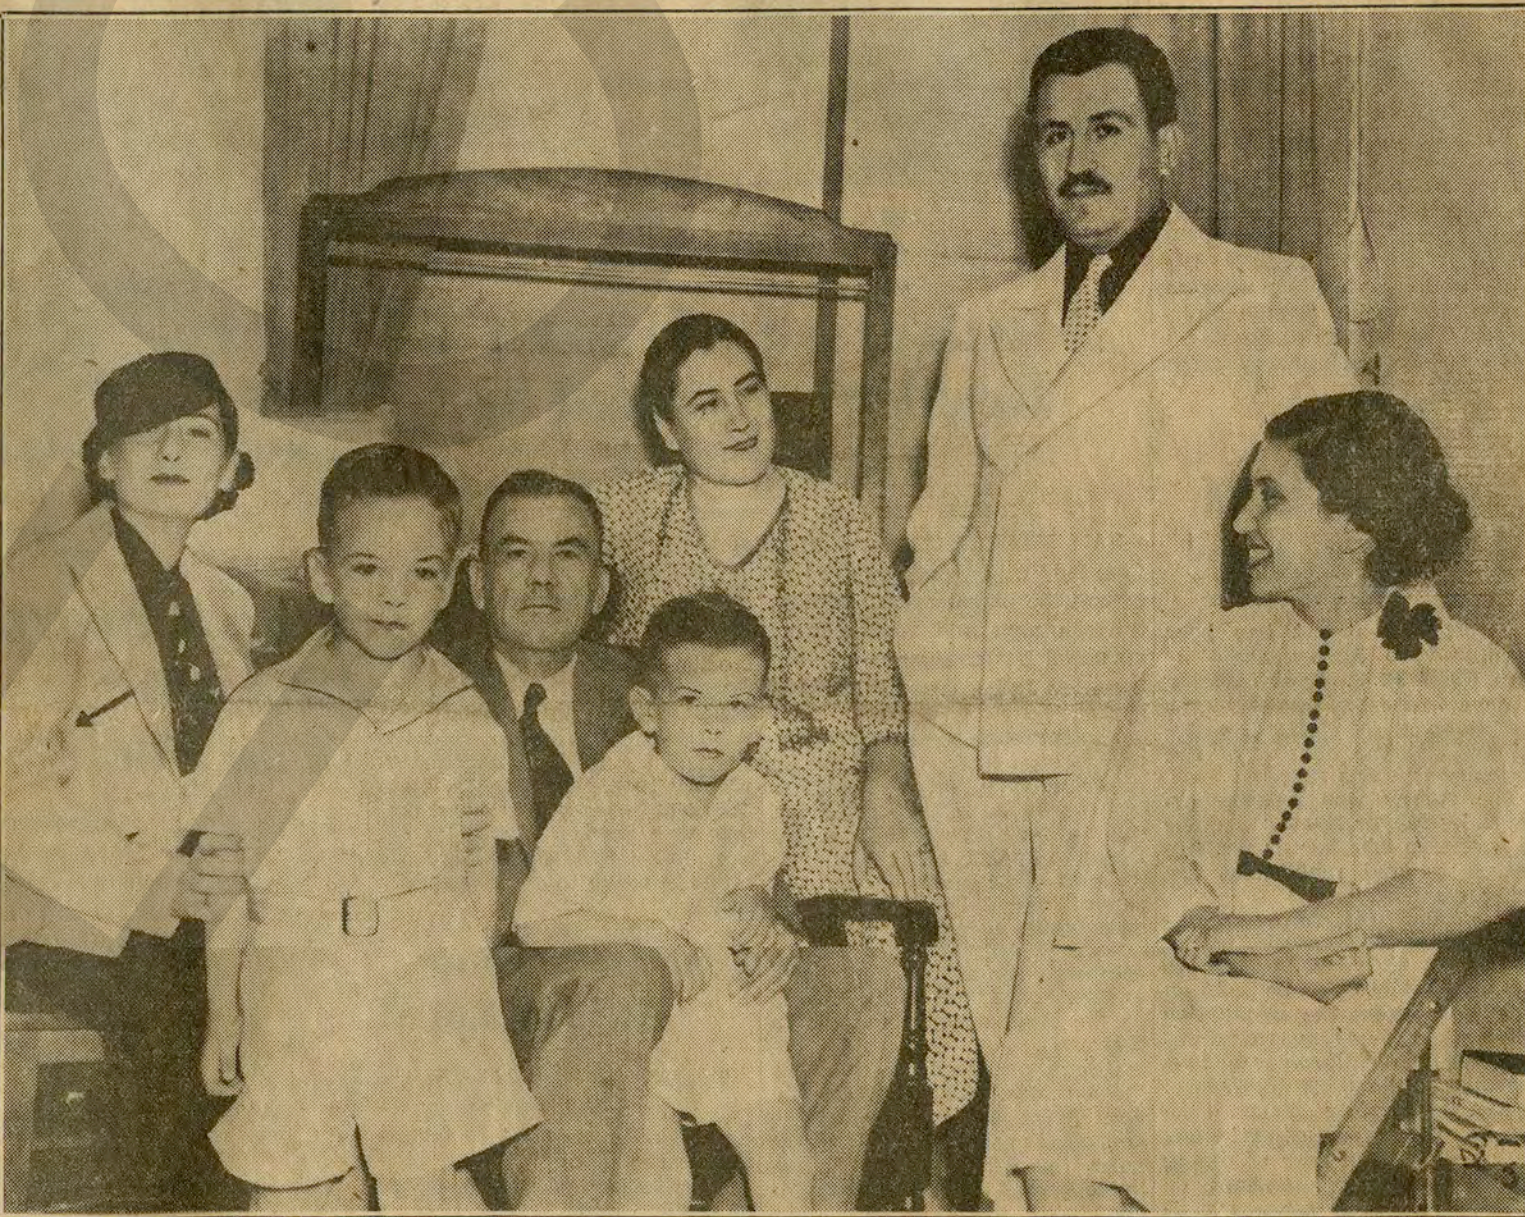

Zioncheck was brought to Sheppard Pratt from the Gallinger Hospital in Washington. He had been committed to the Gallinger Hospital after a series of escapades in Washington and elsewhere.

A sanity hearing scheduled to be held for him in Washington last Friday was cancelled after arrangements were made for his transfer here. Officials at Sheppard Pratt said at the time of his entry that he was expected to remain for an indefinite period for rest and observation.

Among his spectacular activities in Washington were a series of combats with his landlady, resulting in her going to a hospital and subsequently obtaining warrants charging Representative and Mrs. Zioncheck with assaulting her. These clashes occurred after Zioncheck and his bride, the former Ruby Taylor Nix, former Works Progress Administration stenographer from Texarkana, Tex., returned from their honeymoon, which carried them to Puerto Rico and New York and was marked by frequent flares of excitement.

Just before his commitment to the hospital, the Congressman had called at the White House and left a package of empty beer bottles and moth balls. He was quoted by White House attaches as saying he left the package for the President.

Pilot Killed as Plane Crashes

MARYSVILLE, Ohio, June 28.—(AP)—An Army pursuit plane crashed on a farm nine miles southwest of Marysville today, killing its youthful pilot, flying cadet Joseph F. Feaganes of Selfridge Field, Mich.

John Thiergarten, on whose farm the plane fell, said it was flying low toward the southeast, apparently at full speed, when it suddenly veered into the ground, bounced nearly 500 yards, and then struck again with such force that the motor was torn loose.

Thiergarten and his hired hand pulled Feaganes from the wreckage and he was taken to nearby Mechanicsburg, where he died as he was carried into a doctor's office.

At Dayton, Army authorities said Feaganes, whose home was in Wytheville, Va., was flying one of four planes which left Patterson Field between 9:30 and 10 a. m. for Selfridge Field.

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., June 28.—(AP)—Two persons drowned and a third was injured when a small plane fell into the surf here today.

The dead were Al Stanley, 29, band leader, of Montgomery, Ala., and Miss Mary Lee Butler, 20, night club employee, of Daytona Beach.

Strobe Lander, pilot and owner of the plane who was brought ashore with a broken nose and facial cuts, said the plane went into a tailspin.

QUEZON REPORTED MUCH IMPROVED

MANILA, June 28.—(AP)—President Manuel Quezon was reported improved tonight after being returned to Manila from Cebu, where he was suddenly stricken with an illness diagnosed as angina pectoris.

Dr. Manuel Canazares, the President's personal physician, said Quezon still had a little temperature, but that, barring complications, he should recuperate in three or four days.

The ship bearing the President and his party arrived from Cebu this morning. Quezon was taken immediately to his official residence, Malacanang Palace.

Quezon went to Cebu to participate in the laying of a cornerstone for a new Government building.

Several years ago Quezon developed a lung infection. He spent many months in California recuperating.

Since his election as first President of the commonwealth he has worked energetically to launch the new governmental machinery. One of his aims has been to make the Philippines "invasion-proof."

STOVE HEAD DIES

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., June 28.—(AP)—Frank K. Berry, 66, former president and general manager of the A. B. Stove Company, of which he was a co-founder, died here today. He suffered a heart attack last night.

General Plutarco Elias Calles, who entered St. Vincent's Hospital about a week ago, for rest and examination, had his day brightened yesterday by a visit of several of his children. In the afternoon he went out with them for an automobile ride.

His visitors yesterday included his two little sons by his second marriage, Leonardo and Plutarco Elias Calles Jr., and their mother; two of his daughters by his first marriage, Mrs. Fernando Torreblanca and Mrs. J. Almada, and the former's husband.

Physicians attending the exiled "strong man" of Mexico declared his condition was satisfactory and that he would soon be discharged from the hospital.

Abandoned Harlem

NEW YORK, June 28.—Four floors of an abandoned Harlem tenement caved in early today, frightening thousands of nearby residents, who believed that several homeless Negroes are buried in the ruins.

The wrecked structure, a five-story tenement, was condemned by the tenement house department in 1934 and has since been boarded up. Police said, however, that for some months as many as a dozen Negro hoboes have been sleeping in the building.

BANK RECORDS TO BE USED IN NAVY SPY TRIAL

Naval Officials Will Take Stand
When Espionage Case Opens
Thursday; Officer Indicted

Approximately a dozen "key witnesses" have been subpoenaed by the Government to testify at the forthcoming "Navy spy" trial in Federal Court, it was revealed yesterday.

Among them are several prominent San Francisco bankers, who will appear with records from which Assistant United States Attorney Clyde Thomas said he expected to show that "large sums of money" were paid by Japanese agents for confidential information regarding the United States Battle Fleet.

Harry Thomas Thompson, former petty officer in the Navy, is to be placed on trial Thursday before Judge Leon R. Yankwich. He was indicted jointly last week with Toshio Miyazaki, lieutenant-commander in the Imperial Japanese Navy, on charges of espionage.

Miyazaki allegedly paid Thompson for "Navy secrets." The Japanese officer was reported by Federal agents to have returned to Tokyo when the spy probe began.

High naval officials will take the witness stand in the trial. Pieced together, their evidence is expected to "conclusively prove," according to Thomas, the existence of a "carefully laid plot" of long standing whereby Japan was given "inside information" regarding Uncle Sam's naval set-up and gunnery plans.

FIRE PREVENTION PROGRESS

A progress report has been submitted to Mayor Shaw by Fire Chief R. J. Scott covering an investigation of seventy-seven beer parlors and places of entertainment in the interest of fire prevention in Los Angeles.

The survey was recently ordered by Mayor Shaw "in order to ascertain whether or not fire ordinances and regulations are being complied with."

Fire Chief Scott's progress report shows that notices, issued to correct violations, pertain to the installation of panic bolts on rear exit doors; the installation of double acting hinges on front doors so doors will swing out; removal of inflammable decorations or the fireproofing of such decorations; installation of exit signs over red light in rear of dining rooms; installation of stairway or fireladders as fire escapes leading to adjoining roofs; installation of two double-acting doors, one at top of rear stairway, one at the bottom of rear stairway, to be used as a rear exit and plainly marked and fire-proofing of inflammable material used as drapes, etc.

ILLEGAL Operations CHARGED

Coastwide Ring Alleged

Accused in Alleged Illegal Operation Syndicate

Southern California Residents Indicted by Grand Jury

SAN FRANCISCO, June 27.—Charged with complicity in a coast-wide illegal operation ring, thirteen men and women have appeared for arraignment before Superior Judge George M. Steiger.

The thirteen are among thirty-one persons indicted by the San Francisco grand jury as members of a syndicate which operated a chain of medical offices from San Diego to Seattle and maintained its own loan company to "finance" criminal operations for unfortunate women.

Spirited argument arose when attorneys for Dr. George Watts and R. L. Rankin, alleged heads of the ring, asked reduction in their bail.

Others arraigned here thus far include Mrs. Violet L. Rankin and Nedra Gordon. Among the defendants are eleven in Los Angeles, three in Long Beach, two in Hollywood and two in San Diego.

The grand jury's indictments followed months of investigation by the State Medical Board and police departments and district attorneys' offices of the various cities in which the asserted syndicate operated.

Among the sensational features of the investigation were simultaneous raids, three weeks ago, on luxurious offices in Los Angeles, Hollywood and Long Beach allegedly operated by the ring. Police seized instruments and equipment valued at $25,000 and obtained a mass of records.

Investigators declared that the ring paid surgeons flat salaries of $500 to $1000 a month, commissions to drug stores and doctors who sent clients to its offices, and shifted employees from office to office to confuse identification.

Teacher Retiring Ages 65 and 62

TORONTO, June 28.—The Toronto board of education has accepted an amendment to its retirement by-laws which will force the retirement of male teachers at the age of 65 and the female teachers at 62.

The amendment removed from the by-laws a clause permitting extensions of employment time. Now the employees will automatically retire at the conclusion of the school term in the year they reach retirement age.

Works Board Protests Zone Pacts

In line with recommendations of City Engineer Lloyd Aldrich the Board of Public Works has requested the City Council to refrain from incorporating provisions in zone variance ordinances which affect the jurisdiction of the board.

In granting some zone variances City Engineer Aldrich points out that the Council has given the city planning commission jurisdiction over the installation of driveways and signs.

This jurisdiction, according to Aldrich, is vested in the public works board under existing charter provisions and regulatory ordinances.

EXTORT SUSPECT TO PLEA

Indicted by a Federal grand jury on charges of attempting to extort $1000 from Mrs. Will Rogers, widow of the late humorist, elderly Joseph E. Snider today is scheduled to enter a plea before Judge William P. James.

Snider, "early day horse doctor," allegedly wrote to Mrs. Rogers, telling her that he knew Will Rogers in the "cowboy days," and demanding $1000 for a book he proposed writing.

Snider, according to Federal agents, admitted writing the letter, but said he "meant no harm."

New Tunnel Project May Be Delayed

In a report to the Board of Public Works, City Engineer Lloyd Aldrich estimates that approximately $2,300,000 would be required to extend Fletcher drive to a direct connection with the easterly terminus of Prospect avenue, including the construction of three tunnels through the Silver Lake Heights area.

Inasmuch as no funds are available for this project and also since it is questionable whether the benefit to traffic would warrant the heavy cost thereof, the Public Works Board, in accordance with Aldrich's recommendation, has requested the City Council to pigeonhole the proposal at present.

World Is Just a Playground to
Mrs. Alice Binkley, Famed
Traveler; Japan Next Stop

To Alice Steiner Binkley, visiting in Los Angeles, the world is a playground, but—

The playground can be turned into a source of profit!

So she said yesterday at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Lula Bissell, 1601 West Vernon avenue, as she described how she was "traveled around the world so many times I have lost count."

Mrs. Binkley, born in Nevada, but who speaks with an English accent, is now on another of her around-the-world trips. Her next destination is Japan.

"I have invested money in almost every country that I have visited," she said. "And, fortunately, most of my investments have been profitable. In addition to my business dealings, I write and I lecture—other sources of income from my world-wide playground."

Mrs. Binkley owns and pilots an airplane, in which she has traversed the length and breadth of Africa several times. Cape Town, South Africa, is the center of her financial investments. She said she recently spent $100,000 in the construction of an apartment house, which is called "Nevada Flats," in memory of her native state.

En route to Japan, Mrs. Binkley will stop in Honolulu to visit her daughter, Mrs. John Tyler, and her granddaughter. She plans to leave Los Angeles later this week.

LEGION BAND FORMED

Organization of the Los Angeles County Council American Legion Band, with John T. Boudreau, composer, as conductor, was announced yesterday. The band personnel includes Legion musicians from all parts of Los Angeles.

County Council Commander A. M. McLaren appointed Louis J. Canepa as chairman of the band committee. The band uniform will be light blue sweaters and trench hats and "Over Here," Boudreau's latest composition, will be the county council's marching song. The band will take part in the huge parade to feature the California State American Legion Convention, August 8 to 12, in Hollywood.

POLLY CHASE AND ROY MASON
Comedian's Daughter's Engagement to Actor Revealed

You can't keep a secret on a studio set.

At least that's the contention of Roy Mason, screen player, and Polly Chase, daughter of Comedian Charley Chase.

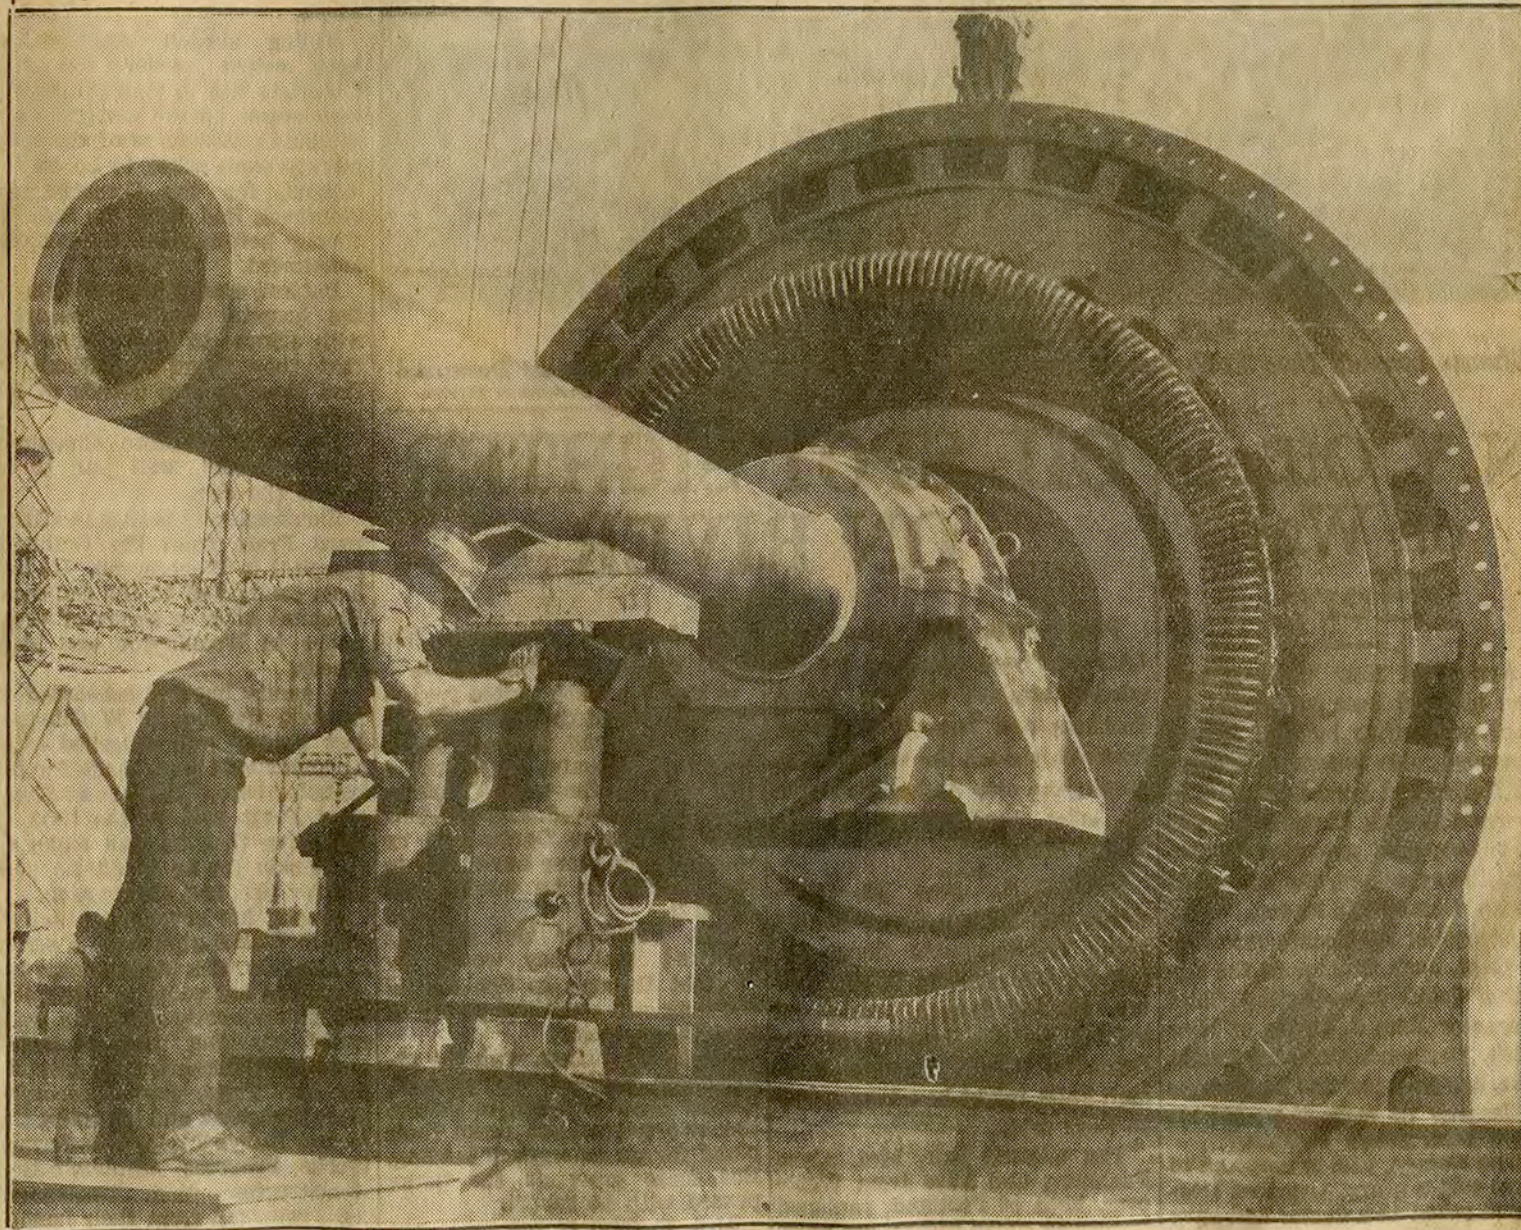

Fellow players noted that "look in their eyes" during the filming of "The Border Patrol man," a new Sol Lesser production, in which George O'Brien is starred, and after repeated inquiries, the two confessed to an early marriage is in prospect. Announcement of their engagement was made at a studio party

Mason, a discovery of Edwin Carewe's, once appeared as leading man for Dolores Del Rio. His more recent parts have been in heavy roles. Miss Chase is just starting her screen career.

MILLION POUNDS OF POWER

GIANT FREQUENCY CHANGER NOW NEARING COMPLETION
This Might be a New Type of Coast Defense Gun, but Actually It Is a Section of a Giant Machine That Will be Used in the Peaceful Pursuit of Supplying Municipal Electricity to Los Angeles. The Machine Is Eighty Feet Long.

Power goes in at 60 cycles and comes out at 50, or goes in at 50 and emerges at 60, depending on which way it goes.

That is the job of a million pounds of metal, used in the construction of a giant frequency changer now nearing completion at the municipal power station in Wilmington.

Los Angeles and the neighboring area are now on 60-cycle frequency, matching Boulder Dam power. However, other areas and users, which may some time have to use Boulder Dam power in an emergency, are on 50 cycles. The reverse holds true

if Los Angeles has to call on the steam standby plant at Long Beach, leased by the city from the Edison company.

The apparatus, with two motors in its hollow shaft, will cost $635,000.

ROOSTER FIGHTING EXHIBIT RAIDED

Swooping down on the Phillips Ranch in the San Gabriel River bed near Norwalk, Capt. George Contreras and seven Sheriff's vice squad officers raided a cock fighting exhibition yesterday, cited eight men to appear in court and confiscated more than 150 imported roosters said to be valued in excess of $50,000.

According to Captain Contreras, the exhibition was being witnessed by more than 250 persons and had a wild climax when the officers appeared. Pandemonium reigned as the spectators fled and in the excitement it was reported that some dashed headlong into the river. Officers rescued about a dozen persons who were unable to swim.

The men cited by Contreras to appear in court included: C. W. Schlosser, Joe Ward, A. P. Ashton, Robert E. Lugo, E. Garres, H. P. Welch, H. E. Markley and A. D. Layne. They were alleged by Contreras to have been the principals of the exhibition, which was staged in conjunction with a barbecue.

Officers also seized a canvas ring on which the fights were being staged and also found several birds fitted out with small boxing gloves. Scales for weighing in the contestants were also taken by the raiders.

The men were ordered to appear today at 4 p. m. in El Monte Justice Court and were cited for asserted violation of the penal code section which prohibits the exhibition of fighting of any birds or animals.

The raid was staged on complaint of C. Jerry Jones, State Humane Society officer of San Gabriel, Contreras said.

RESCUE PARTY ORGANIZED

PORTLAND, Ore., June 28.—(P)—Flyers searching for the missing airplane of Mrs. Alyce Pashburg and Irma Westover of Portland sighted the wreckage of an airplane atop Archer Mountain, fourteen miles northeast of Camas, Wash., today.

Expeditions were organized at once to enter the rugged territory afoot. Don Smith of the Portland air service, one of the flyers who sighted it, said it was "a bad crackup."

Mrs. Pashburg was at the controls when they left Vancouver, Wash., airport early yesterday morning, headed for the air races at Spokane. Miss Westover was a passenger.

The ship, owned by Cecil Pounder, Portland, was entered in a cross-country race to Spokane. When it failed to appear long after its scheduled arrival, searching parties swung into the air.

Searchers, including Army pilots from Pearson Field at Vancouver, resumed their quest at dawn today.

Abandoned Harlem Tenement Caves in

NEW YORK, June 28.—Four floors of an abandoned Harlem tenement caved in early today, frightening thousands of nearby residents, who believed that several homeless Negroes are buried in the ruins.

The wrecked structure, a five-story tenement, was condemned by the tenement house department in 1934 and has since been boarded up. Police said, however, that for some months as many as a dozen Negro hoboes have been sleeping in the building.

BANK RECORDS TO BE USED IN NAVY SPY TRIAL

Naval Officials Will Take Stand
When Espionage Case Opens
Thursday; Officer Indicted

Approximately a dozen "key witnesses" have been subpoenaed by the Government to testify at the forthcoming "Navy spy" trial in Federal Court, it was revealed yesterday.

Among them are several prominent San Francisco bankers, who will appear with records from which Assistant United States Attorney Clyde Thomas said he expected to show that "large sums of money" were paid by Japanese agents for confidential information regarding the United States Battle Fleet.

Harry Thomas Thompson, former petty officer in the Navy, is to be placed on trial Thursday before Judge Leon R. Yankwich. He was indicted jointly last week with Toshio Miyazaki, lieutenant-commander in the Imperial Japanese Navy, on charges of espionage.

Miyazaki allegedly paid Thompson for "Navy secrets." The Japanese officer was reported by Federal agents to have returned to Tokyo when the spy probe began.

High naval officials will take the witness stand in the trial. Pieced together, their evidence is expected to "conclusively prove," according to Thomas, the existence of a "carefully laid plot" of long standing whereby Japan was given "inside information" regarding Uncle Sam's naval set-up and gunnery plans.

FIRE PREVENTION PROGRESS

A progress report has been submitted to Mayor Shaw by Fire Chief R. J. Scott covering an investigation of seventy-seven beer parlors and places of entertainment in the interest of fire prevention in Los Angeles.

The survey was recently ordered by Mayor Shaw "in order to ascertain whether or not fire ordinances and regulations are being complied with."

Fire Chief Scott's progress report shows that notices, issued to correct violations, pertain to the installation of panic bolts on rear exit doors; the installation of double acting hinges on front doors so doors will swing out; removal of inflammable decorations or the fireproofing of such decorations; installation of exit signs over red light in rear of dining rooms; installation of stairway or fireladders as fire escapes leading to adjoining roofs; installation of two double-acting doors, one at top of rear stairway, one at the bottom of rear stairway, to be used as a rear exit and plainly marked and fire-proofing of inflammable material used as drapes, etc.

Southern California Residents Indicted by Grand Jury

SAN FRANCISCO, June 27.—Charged with complicity in a coast-wide illegal operation ring, thirteen men and women have appeared for arraignment before Superior Judge George M. Steiger.

The thirteen are among thirty-one persons indicted by the San Francisco grand jury as members of a syndicate which operated a chain of medical offices from San Diego to Seattle and maintained its own loan company to "finance" criminal operations for unfortunate women.

Spirited argument arose when attorneys for Dr. George Watts and R. L. Rankin, alleged heads of the ring, asked reduction in their bail.

Others arraigned here thus far include Mrs. Violet L. Rankin and Nedra Cordon. Among the defendants are eleven in Los Angeles, three in Long Beach, two in Hollywood and two in San Diego.

The grand jury's indictments followed months of investigation by the State Medical Board and police departments and district attorneys' offices of the various cities in which the asserted syndicate operated.

Works Board Protests Zone Pacts

In line with recommendations of City Engineer Lloyd Aldrich the Board of Public Works has requested the City Council to refrain from incorporating provisions in zone variance ordinances which affect the jurisdiction of the board.

In granting some zone variances City Engineer Aldrich points out that the Council has given the city planning commission jurisdiction over the installation of driveways and signs.

This jurisdiction, according to Aldrich, is vested in the public works board under existing charter provisions and regulatory ordinances.

EXTORT SUSPECT TO PLEA

Indicted by a Federal grand jury on charges of attempting to extort $1000 from Mrs. Will Rogers, widow of the late humorist, elderly Joseph E. Snider today is scheduled to enter a plea before Judge William P. James.

Snider, "early day horse doctor," allegedly wrote to Mrs. Rogers, telling her that he knew Will Rogers in the "cowboy days," and demanding $1000 for a book he proposed writing.

Snider, according to Federal agents, admitted writing the letter, but said he "meant no harm."

New Tunnel Project May Be Delayed

In a report to the Board of Public Works, City Engineer Lloyd Aldrich estimates that approximately $2,300,000 would be required to extend Fletcher drive to a direct connection with the easterly terminus of Prospect avenue, including the construction of three tunnels through the Silver Lake Heights area.

Inasmuch as no funds are available for this project and also since it is questionable whether the benefit to traffic would warrant the heavy cost thereof, the Public Works Board, in accordance with Aldrich's recommendation, has requested the City Council to pigeonhole the proposal at present.

Mrs. Alice Binckley, Famed
Traveler; Japan Next Stop

To Alice Steiner Binckley, visiting in Los Angeles, the world is a playground, but—

The playground can be turned into a source of profit!

So she said yesterday at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Lula Bissell, 1601 West Vernon avenue, as she described how she was "traveled around the world so many times I have lost count."

Mrs. Binckley, born in Nevada, but who speaks with an English accent, is now on another of her around-the-world trips. Her next destination is Japan.

"I have invested money in almost every country that I have visited," she said. "And, fortunately, most of my investments have been profitable. In addition to my business dealings, I write and I lecture—other sources of income from my world-wide playground."

Mrs. Binckley owns and pilots an airplane, in which she has traversed the length and breadth of Africa several times. Cape Town, South Africa, is the center of her financial investments. She said she recently spent $100,000 in the construction of an apartment house, which is called "Nevada Flats," in memory of her native state.

En route to Japan, Mrs. Binckley will stop in Honolulu to visit her daughter, Mrs. John Tyler, and her granddaughter. She plans to leave Los Angeles later this week.

Comedian's Daughter's Engagement to Actor Revealed

You can't keep a secret on a studio set.

At least that's the contention of Roy Mason, screen player, and Polly Chase, daughter of Comedian Charley Chase.

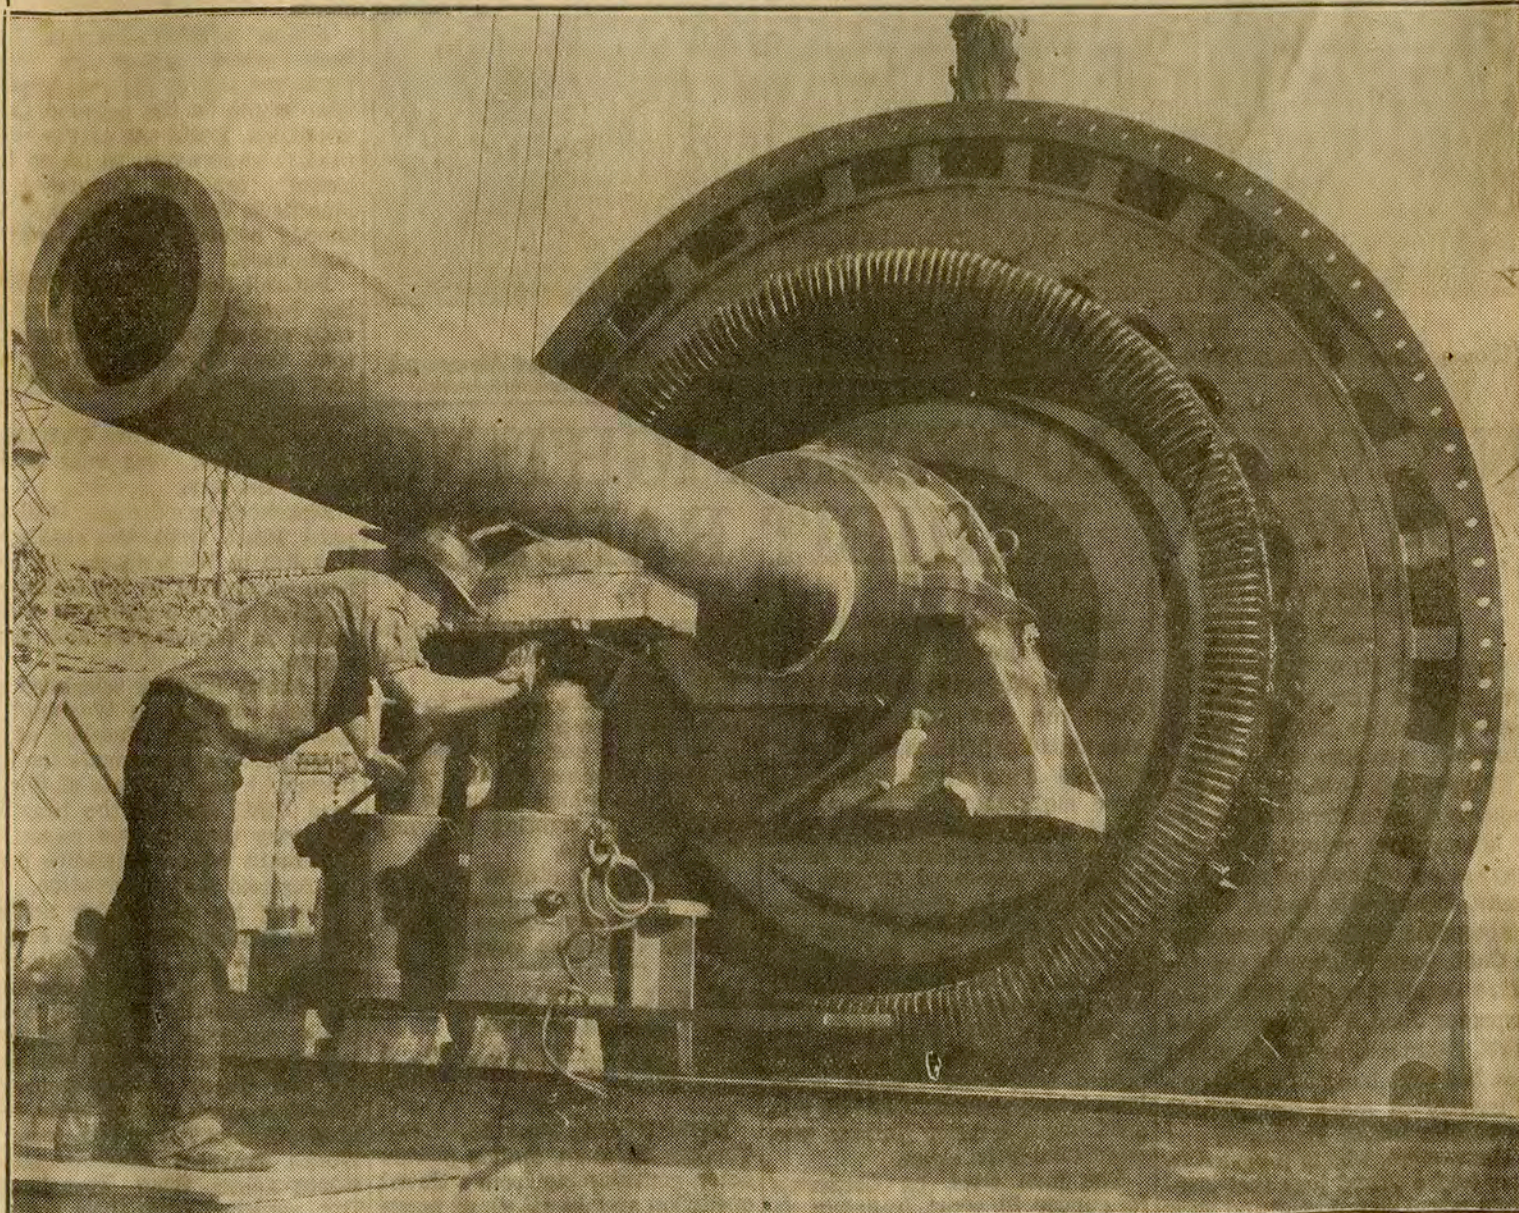

Fellow players noted that "look in their eyes" during the filming of "The Border Patrol man," a new Sol Lesser production, in which George O'Brien is starred, and after repeated inquiries, the two confessed that an early marriage is in prospect.

Announcement of their engagement was made at a studio party celebrating the completion of the picture.

Mason, a discovery of Edwin Carewe's, once appeared as leading man for Dolores Del Rio. His more recent parts have been in heavy roles. Miss Chase is just starting her screen career.

MILLION POUNDS OF POWER

GIANT FREQUENCY CHANGER NOW NEARING COMPLETION

This Might be a New Type of Coast Defense Gun, but Actually It Is a Section of a Giant Machine That Will be Used in the Peaceful Pursuit of Supplying Municipal Electricity to Los Angeles. The Machine Is Eighty Feet Long.

Power goes in at 60 cycles and comes out at 50, or goes in at 50 and emerges at 60, depending on which way it goes.

That is the job of a million pounds of metal, used in the construction of a giant frequency changer now nearing completion at the municipal power station in Wilmington.

Los Angeles and the neighboring area are now on 60-cycle frequency, matching Boulder Dam power. However, other areas and users, which may some time have to use Boulder Dam power in an emergency, are on 50 cycles. The reverse holds true

if Los Angeles has to call on the steam standby plant at Long Beach, leased by the city from the Edison company.

The apparatus, with two motors in its hollow shaft, will cost $635,000.

D. A. R. Asks Closer Study of Poverty

WASHINGTON, June 28.—Lack of personal interest in the problems of the destitute is earning anti-American organizations new adherents from the youth of the nation, asserts Mrs. William A. Becker, president general of the Daughters of the American Revolution, as the D. A. R. launches a summer program of aid for poverty-stricken young men and women.

Although Mrs. Becker's statement is made "without criticizing Federal and state relief," the president general says:

"Relief undoubtedly has been administered with due regard for the emergency, but the understanding and concern which were part of the neighborliness of former days have been replaced by a chasm of growing distrust and hate. Neglect and isolation and grinding poverty are driving many into the camps of the enemy."

TAX REPEAL ISSUE FLEAYED

Proposed repeal of the state sales tax was condemned yesterday by Earl B. Gilmore, president of the Gilmore Oil Company.

"This business of placing repeal of the sales tax on the November ballot makes me impatient," Gilmore said. "The plotted overthrow of the sales tax is just another move toward the often-beaten 'single tax' plan. Six times the voters have thrown out the 'single tax,' and now the proposal creeps back again."

"As an oil man, I might be expected to welcome repeal of the sales tax of 4 cents a gallon upon gasoline, but I realize that under the 'single tax' the citizens of the state would soon become so poor they could not afford to buy gasoline."

Gilmore said that the "present inequality of taxation" is a glaring evil that must be remedied. He declared that enactment of a "single tax" plan would make the inequality more burdensome to the taxpayers.

Bank Suing City on Bond Payments

CHICAGO, June 28.—Charges that some holders of Chicago special assessment bonds were paid in full while others "held the bag" are made by the Chase National Bank of New York in a Federal Court suit against the city, demanding an accounting.

The bill alleges also that the funds were used for purposes other than retirement of the bonds.

Co-plaintiff with the bank, which owns about $700,000 worth of the bonds, is Maurice H. Ewer of Mount Clair, N. J., owner of approximately $35,000 worth.

Generosity Turned Down, But Ex-Wife Asks Alimony Boost

COLUMBUS, Ohio, June 28.—Albert Herman Hawraney, local restaurateur and philanthropist, doesn't like shirkers, and he hates gangsters and kidnapers, but he does have a deep feeling for his fellow Americans—particularly those in distress.

That, he said, explains why he has offered the financially embarrassed city of Columbus $50,000 cash to use as it sees fit for the next two years, without interest. It also explains why he has offered the chief of police to feed all furloughed policemen for three months, with a similar offer being made to the fire department chief. His offer was refused.

When Mrs. Hawraney, in Detroit, heard of her husband's generosity to the capital city of Ohio, she took steps through an attorney to force her separated husband to increase her alimony.

'CHRISTIAN SCIENCE'

Subject of Lesson-Sermon

"Christian Science" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass. These words of Christ Jesus were the Golden Text: "The kingdom of heaven is like unto leaven, which a woman took, and hid in three measures of meal, till the whole was leavened."

A Bible citation in the Lesson-Sermon included these passages from Luke: "After these things the Lord appointed other seventy also, and sent them two and two before his face into every city and place, whither he himself would come. Therefore said he unto them, The harvest truly is great, but the labourers are few: . . . And into whatsoever city ye enter, and they receive you, eat such things as are set before you; and heal the sick that are therein, and say unto them, The kingdom of God is come nigh unto you."

A correlative selection from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, stated: "The infinite Truth of the Christ-cure has come to this age through a 'still, small voice,' through silent utterances and divine anointing which quicken and increase the beneficial effects of Christianity."

2 REPTILES TO BE TAKEN INTO COURT

Houtenbrink Will Identify Them as Pair Sold to Hope Last Year, Prosecutors Declare

Two rattlesnakes, identified by their owner as those which he sold to Charles Hope, are to be taken into Superior Judge Charles W. Fricke's court today in the murder trial of Robert S. James.

They will be identified for the jury by J. C. "Snake Joe" Houtenbrink, listed as the day's first witness. According to Hope, the snakes were used in an attempt to murder Mrs. Mary Busch James, who was later, Hope declares, drowned by her husband when the snake venom failed to kill her.

The two snakes, upon their identification by Houtenbrink as the ones he sold Hope, will be introduced in evidence as exhibits, according to Deputy District Attorneys Eugene Williams and John Barnes.

REPTILES VICIOUS

Produced at the District Attorney's office last May, shortly after Hope was arrested and had confessed his amazing part in the death of the blonde Mrs. James, the two reptiles exhibited highly vicious tendencies striking at everyone who approached their glass-topped boxes.

Insurance agents who wrote $20,000 accidental death policies upon Mrs. James life in the spring of 1935, before she was married to the red-haired barber, will also testify today, according to Williams and Barnes.

Through the agents the prosecutors will seek to prove that James induced his future wife to take out the policies before their marriage; that he later had himself made beneficiary, and that he made strenuous attempts to prove, following his wife's death, that she had been drowned accidentally in a fish pond at their home, seeking, thereby to collect the full amount of the policies.

HOPE TESTIFIES

The climax of the prosecution's case was reached last Thursday when Hope, former navy enlisted man and Pacific Fleet football star, told of the asserted murder of Mrs. James.

He declared that the barber, whose shop on West Eighth street he patronized, had commissioned him in June, 1935, to procure some rattlesnakes.

Then very friendly with James, who had loaned him money, Hope declared, he bought snakes and delivered three lots of them to James before the latter was satisfied that he had real "killer" reptiles.

James intimidated him and forced him to look on, while the barber subjected his wife, bound to a table in her La Canada home, to the bite of one of the serpents, Hope declared.

Later, when the snake-bite failed to kill, James drowned his spouse in a bathtub and threw her body in a fish pond to make her death appear accidental, Hope related.

6 Dead Over Week-End

Beatings, Fire, Liquor Kill Four

TWO SUICIDES

Woman, Man Leave Notes to Mates

Death wore many guises as he walked the by-ways of Los Angeles and environs between nightfall and yesterday's daybreak. Names of six of his victims were on the police list of week-end tragedies and misadventures.

Mack McWilliams, found badly injured on the sidewalk two blocks from his home at 1364 East Fortieth street, first told investigators at the Georgia receiving hospital that he had been struck by an automobile. But, dying, he gasped that he had been beaten. Death came before he could describe assailants or circumstances.

The charred body of a 70-year-old news vendor known only as "Olson" was found in the interior of a vacant store at 3125 South Arlington street after firemen had extinguished a blaze there. Circumstances, the police report said, indicated Olson had been drinking and had set fire to his pallet with a candle.

James Peno, of 3271 Fletcher drive, was arrested yesterday when Batiste Tarizzo of 1027½ Raymond avenue, Glendale, died in the Physicians and Surgeons Hospital there of head injuries. It is charged Peno struck Tarizzo over the head with a plank in a fight over debts.

Arrested at 1025 Court street on a charge of intoxication, Benjamin Estico, a sailor from the U. S. S. Medusa, died several hours later in the central jail. Acute alcoholism was given as the cause.

Death appeared as suicide to the two other victims. In one case a woman left a note for her husband, in the other the husband addressed a farewell to his wife.

In her home at 1177 West Thirty-seventh street, Mrs. Jessie Rowe, shot and fatally wounded herself with a pistol. "Just an idea," were the words of the note to her husband, Belmont Rowe. He said she had been despondent over ill health.

"You know what I told you," was the text of a note found beside the body of James Cagle, truck driver, in his automobile in a field near South Gate. He had filled the closed car with monoxide gas from the exhaust by means of a hose. The note was addressed to his assertively estranged wife, Irene, at 6256 King avenue, Bell. He lived at 225 East Sixty-sixth street.

ACCLAMATION FOR NOMINEE CAUSES FEAR

Democrats Urge That Roosevelt Deliver Speech to Counteract Kansan's Popularity

By Arthur Hachten

Universal Service Correspondent

ESTES PARK, Colo., June 28.—Democratic confidence that Colorado is "in the bag" for the Roosevelt "New Deal" in the November election, has been struck a heavy blow by Governor Alf Landon's visit here for a vacation, political observers declared tonight.

The acclaim given Governor Landon on his every appearance in Colorado has caused a drive to be made by "New Dealers" in the state for President Roosevelt to make a speech here during his campaign for reelection in an effort to counteract the "swing to Landon."

Leaders optimistic Republican leaders, who have conferred with Governor Landon, disclosed they were highly optimistic over the prospects for Republican victory here in the November balloting. As in other states, Jeffersonian Democrats were said to be giving no aid or comfort to the "New Dealers" led by Roosevelt.

Coloradoans are beginning to envision their state as a "summer White House" in the event Governor Landon is elected to the Presidency. Beckoning tourists from all over the world, Coloradoans noted the advertising possibilities of a President making this state his summer resort. Amid the furor over politics, Governor Landon continued to maintain his silence on details of his campaign issue any further until after he delivers his speech at Topeka July 23, formally accepting the Republican presidential nomination, it was indicated.

MAY DISCUSS PLATFORM In that address, the G. O. P. standard-bearer is expected to discuss the party's platform and not confine his utterances to ideals that have been endorsed by America since its founding.

A glimpse of Landon's views on social security was expected to be offered in his message to the Kansas State Legislature July 7, recommending a state constitutional amendment to enable the legislature to enact far-reaching legislation for the aid of indigent, aged and unemployed persons.

He spent today at the McGraw ranch, five miles from here, which he has leased. No political chieftains were in conference with him. He spent the day largely in reading, strolling about the mountain-rimmed ranch or in play with his children.

The Republican nominee and his family breakfasted on lamb chops and other food which he personally bought in a shopping tour of Estes Park yesterday. He plans to leave here July 5 for Topeka, but meanwhile will give fishing, riding and mountain climbing his first consideration, the governor said.

Search by deputy sheriffs was under way yesterday for George W. Morgan, 42-year-old Negro, who for the second time in a week made his escape Saturday from the contagious ward of the General Hospital where he was being held as an infantile paralysis suspect.

Captured in a freight car following his escape June 22, the man was returned to the ward and shackled to his bed with chains, but broke loose and fled down a fire escape.

MAGINOT LINE DEFENSE HIT BY WALKOUT

Agitators Warned by Police; Future of Nation in Croix de Feu Transformation

By Stanton B. Leeds

Universal Service Special Cable

PARIS, June 28.—The elaborate defense network of France's eastern frontier felt the effect of the nation's strike epidemic tonight as gas was shut off by a walkout in Metz, the country's most important garrison city, while all production ceased in the steel and munitions industry of Alsace-Lorraine where 30,000 workers were on strike.

A grotesque hue was imparted to the strike movement when twelve wardens at the Saint Pons Insane Asylum struck, abandoned 30 inmates. Gendarmes were rushed to the institution to replace the wardens and prevent the deranged patients from escaping.

Production paralysis in the highly industrialized Alsace-Lorraine region involved France's mighty Maginot line of underground steel fortresses, protecting the nation's frontier bordering on the German Rhineland recently remilitarized by Chancellor Hitler.

The great Alsace-Lorraine factories feed the Maginot line with munitions and materials.

STRIKE SPREADS

The strike movement in Eastern France, meanwhile, spread with department store workers in Metz joining the gas company employees in "folded arms" action.

Facing this grave situation, the prefect of Moselle police issued a stern warning threatening to deport "alien agitators" who might seek to take advantage of the strike crisis for "political purposes." A considerable element of the Alsace Lorraine population is of German descent.

Simultaneously, across France, hotels and pleasure places on the world-famed Riviera were tightly

As it closed two weeks of hearings in Los Angeles, the committee set July 24 as the date for the beginning of public sessions at San Francisco. Subsequent hearings will be conducted in Sacramento and Los Angeles.

CONFIDENCE WEAKENED

Assemblyman Donihue said: "From the evidence already adduced, it is apparent that California liquor control has been tinged with elements of both politics and corruption, with the result that public confidence in the present administration of liquor laws has been weakened if not destroyed."

An increasingly dangerous situation in liquor law administration, Donihue said, has placed in jeopardy both the revenue and administrative interests of the state and the public welfare.

The committee chairman, reviewing evidence at the hearings here, charged:

1. "That motives of politics and profit actuated vital changes in personnel and policies of liquor law administration."

2. "That special rulings by which the state has been deprived of large revenues were brought about by concerted action of private individuals motivated by personal profit. Legal status of these rulings still is undetermined and should be tested in civil and criminal courts."

FIXING FEES

3. "That liquor licenses were recklessly granted and arbitrarily revoked. Superimposed on this situation are instances of 'fixing fees,' commanded by private individuals and frequently paid."

Against the background of testimony concerning liquor control, maneuvering, "shakedowns," and other irregularities, Donihue declared he saw the need for continued investigation by the district attorneys of Los Angeles, Sacramento and Oakland.

Particularly, he called to the attention of District Attorney Buron Fitts of Los Angeles and District Attorney Otis Babcock of Sacramento the Jinricky case. Donihue declared the evidence showed concerted action to obtain for drinks of hard liquor character a wine classification.

The Los Angeles district attorney's office also was asked to consider several liquor license changes, in which there were charges of fixing fees, as possible grounds for prosecution.

BRIDE CHANGES MIND 99-Year-Old Veteran's Wedding Off

OLD FORGE, N. Y., June 28.—(P)—Ninety-nine-year-old Charles Jeannette faced his wedding hour today without a bride.

Jeannette, who planned to wed Mrs. Ella Blanche Manning before he was "too old to marry," said she appeared at his cottage last night and told him she was leaving.

The undaunted veteran, however, announced he would go through with the arrangements, including a wedding dinner and boat ride—"everything but the wedding."

Mrs. Manning's change of mind came, Jeannette said, after her two daughters, Mrs. Augusta Bassinger of Syracuse and Mrs. William Kerr of Saranac Lake, came to Old Forge and took his bride-to-be for an hour's ride. On their return, he revealed, Mrs.

shut down by thousands of workers who struck, in many cases giving guests and visitors 24-hours in which to evacuate the resorts. Nice, on the Riviera, was already paralyzed by a transportation strike.

DISARMAMENT SPEECH

As if taking account of the manner in which strikes are affecting the French defenses, Edouard Daladier, minister of defense and acting premier during the absence of Premier Leon Blum, who is in Geneva, in a speech at Versailles today called upon all nations to join France in a general disarmament program.

Warning that the Maginot line is fully armed and manned and that France's perfected motorized army divisions are ready to move swiftly to any international trouble sector, Daladier declared:

"The army is fully ready to assure the integrity of the country under any circumstances."

"The army is animated by a beautiful spirit of duty and discipline. It is and will remain at the service of all the nation to guarantee its safety, independence and liberty."

Meantime, fresh manifestations arose of the rapidly crystallizing forces of the right and left pointing toward a threatened "showdown" as the impending climax of the internal crisis besetting France.

Of utmost importance to the immediate future of France, as well as the future of Europe, was the transformation of the semi-military Croix de Feu, the huge Fascist league headed by Colonel Francois de la Roque into a political party.

Announcing his new tactics, De la Roque, often termed the potential "Mussolini of France," said he would open headquarters

TOWNSEND HAS NEW SCHEME OF POLITICS

Doctor Says He Won't Adopt
Other Platforms in Reply to 'Lemke Support' Rumor

CHICAGO, June 28.—(P)—Dr. Francis E. Townsend, whose $200-a-month pension plan brought him followers he numbers in the millions, promised those followers another plan today—this one on politics.

The doctor said he "could offer" the plan now and "will offer it a little later."

He made the announcement in a signed statement published in the official organ of his pension movement, the National Townsend Weekly, in the midst of conflicting rumors of what role, if any, the organization would play in the new Union party of Representative William Lemke, North Dakota Republican. Lemke claims Townsendite support.

The doctor asked his followers to "please take my word for it, once for all, no matter what the opposition papers may say, that I am not adopting the platforms or teachings of other groups or parties."

SPEAKS OF STRANGE 'BED FELLOWS'

"This should be borne in mind," the doctor said, "when you see me consorting with some strange 'bed fellows' these coming days."

The statement continued:

"I have been asked many times why I conferred with Father Coughlin, and why I have allowed my picture to be taken with Gerald K. Smith of the share-the-wealth movement. I am asked if there is to be a merger with these and similar movements."

"My answer has always been 'no merger of any kind is proposed. While I am in sympathy with much of what is being attempted by others, the programs announced in these movements are too complicated for me!'"

Doctor Townsend said he wanted his movement to "stand on a very short and simple platform" which he said would be offered at the annual Townsend Club convention in Cleveland next month.

Predicting that "something will happen to replace one or both of the old parties," the pension leader said he had "no wish that the Townsend movement shall become the sole factor in creating this new political alignment" but "I do want the Townsend movement to do its full part."

"Until I have some political plan to offer or endorse," the doctor concluded, "I do not wish to declare my position."

The doctor has said delegates to the Townsend convention would decide the campaign stand. He has been quoted as saying he personally might support Lemke or still another candidate. One thing is known: Lemke will address the convention.

U. S. Office Soon Vacant Term Expires

Comptroller McCarl's

NO SUCCESSOR

Position Extremely Important

WASHINGTON, June 28.—(P)—A vacancy in a key post of Administration machinery looms forty-eight hours hence, without indication of who eventually will succeed J. R. McCarl as comptroller general.

McCarl leaves the post he has occupied for 14 years at the close of business Tuesday, his term expired. President Roosevelt left the capital yesterday, making no announcement nor hinting at a successor.

Among several mentioned in capital talk as possible appointees to the $10,000 post have been Daniel W. Bell, Acting Director of the Budget, and Francis J. Carr, of the Tennessee Valley Authority staff, and who worked out several systems of budget control for private firms before entering Government service.

McCarl has been in public attention on several occasions when, as "no" man of the Government, he refused to approve expenditures proposed in New Deal programs. He was appointed to the comptroller generalship by President Harding after having come to the capital from Nebraska as an office aid to Senator Norris.

Stepmother Beat Children, Charged

NEW YORK, June 28.—Charged with beating her two stepchildren with a homemade cat-o-nine-tails, Mrs. Bessie Martin of Astoria, L. I., was arrested today. The complaint was made by Phillip Martin, father of two children of a previous marriage. The children, William 11, and Elizabeth, 10, allegedly showed signs of having been lashed with the whip. Martin made the complaint.

LEMKE WILL STRESS 'MONEY' IN CAMPAIGN

Third Party Leader to Open National Headquarters at Chicago Within a Week

BURLINGTON, Iowa, June 27.—(P)—Representative William Lemke (Republican) of North Dakota, candidate for President on the new Union party ticket, said today he would begin setting up the party machinery this week for a "clean" campaign in which the "money issue" would be paramount.

The bald, freckle-faced co-author of the Frazier-Lemke farm bills, announced he would open national headquarters in Chicago within the week.

The party—thus far only a name attached to his candidacy and that of his vice presidential running mate, Thomas O'Brien, Boston lawyer—would take form along traditional political lines, Lemke said, with a national committee and state committees "wherever possible."

There, however, the Congressman declared the likeness between his party and the Republicans and Democrats would end.

Lemke disclosed his plans to farmer friends—he says "at least 85 per cent of the farmers of the nation are my personal friends"—before addressing a farm gathering at Burlington.

He said his campaign proper would not begin until August, but when it did it would be centered on "the money issue" with "all mud slinging" strictly barred.

Ex-Gangster Freed for Good Behavior

MALONE, N. Y., June 28.—Rocco Dilarmi, lieutenant of the late "Dutch Schultz" Flegenheimer, has been released from the Franklin County jail on an order signed by Federal Judge Frederick H. Bryant. Good behavior, plus a twenty-day imprisonment last summer, brought the reduction in the contempt of court sentence imposed on Dilarmi during the trial of Schultz.

G. O. P. ASSEMBLY MAPS CAMPAIGN

Enthusiastic indorsement of the candidacies of Gov. Alf M. Landon and Col. Frank Knox was formally voted yesterday by the Board of Directors of the California Republican Assembly at the closing session of their two-day meeting.

Preliminary plans for the participation of this organization of aggressively liberal young Republicans in the campaign to elect their party's standard bearers were discussed and approved, and the directors also voted to invite Governor Landon and Colonel Knox, as well as National Chairman John Hamilton, to visit California during the campaign.

The indorsement of the party's nominees for the two highest offices in the national Government was contained in a resolution which was unanimously adopted. Embossed copies will be sent to Governor Landon and Colonel Knox. The resolution reads:

"Resolved, That the board of directors of the California Republican Assembly does hereby express its unanimous approval of the nomination of Gov. Alf M. Landon for President and Col. Frank Knox for Vice President of the United States of America, and does hereby express its sincere confidence in their leadership, and does hereby pledge itself to a whole-hearted, determined, united enthusiastic effort to assure an overwhelming Landon and Knox victory in California."

As its first step in making the organization an effective instrument in the campaign, the directors mapped plans for a drive designed to raise its membership to a total of 80,000 in the state.

Then they adopted the plan of organization under which the Assembly will function throughout the campaign, a plan which sets forth the tasks which will be performed by the Assembly members in spreading the gospel of liberal Republicanism. These are set forth in detail for each type of political subdivision, from the county down to the precinct.

ELECTED TO BOARD.

Two new members were elected to the board yesterday. Walter Dodge of Indio replaces Earl Truscott of San Bernardino as regional director for the 19th Congressional district, and Robert Littler of Redwood City replaces Harrison W. Call of South San Francisco as director for Region 6.

The latter was forced to resign when he became a candidate for the State Legislature, it being a rule of the Republican Assembly that no candidate for public office can hold office in the Assembly.

After the formal business of the session had been concluded, the directors heard an informal report by their president, Edward S. Shattuck, who was a delegation to the Republican national convention and a member of the platform committee, of his experiences at the convention.

The California delegation never held a caucus, Shattuck said, adding "we didn't decide whom we were going to vote for until we were on the floor of the convention."

The great Hoover demonstration at the convention, he asserted, was really spontaneous.

"The California delegation," he said, "had nothing to do with starting it. We felt that it would have been misunderstood if we had started it. Of course, after it was well under way, we joined it."

in Probate Court; Lawyer's

Prosecuted on evidence revealed by investigators for the State Bar, Henry Davidian, a lawyer; Sauren Mathsen, a clerk in his office, and Henry Hagopian are awaiting sentence on will forgery and conspiracy charges.

The three were found guilty by a jury in Superior Judge Samuel R. Blake's court of having forged a will to the estate of Davidian's father, Theophilus Davidian, and of having conspired to file the false document in Probate Court.

According to Deputy District Herbert Scott, Davidian headed the conspiracy, obtaining the help of the other two in juggling the affairs of his father's $10,000 estate, while he sought to "deal" with his two brothers seeking the best financial advantage.

Testimony of handwriting experts concerning Armenian chirographic characters, contained in the assertedly forged will, formed a large portion of the prosecution evidence.

LOWER COURT AFFIRMED IN LIBEL APPEAL

Decision Favors Defendants in Suit Asking Huge Sums for Professional Damage

Verdicts favoring the Forest Lawn Memorial Park Association, Inc., and Ella Summers, rendered by the Superior Court in the libel suits of W. L. Pollard and Samuel L. Kurland, were sustained yesterday in a decision of the Appellate Court, Second District.

Pollard, an attorney, sued the association and Ella Summers for $75,000 actual damages; $150,000 exemplary and punitive damages, and $300 special damages. Kurland sued for $25,000 actual damages, $75,000 exemplary and punitive damages, and $300 special damages. They charged that an affidavit published by the cemetery association in all Los Angeles papers in October, 1934, reflected on their integrity and professional standing.

Ella Summers swore to the affidavit used in the advertisement. In it she charged Pollard and Kurland, with others, had influenced her to sign a complaint against the association in an effort to bar the operation of a mortuary in connection with the cemetery.

The Superior Court held the affidavit was not libelous and the decision was sustained in the Appellate Court decision written by Justice Pro-tem Marshall McComb.

After a quick trip across the continent from Washington, D. C., Baron Antoine Beyens, nobleman member of a distinguished Belgian family and secretary to his country's embassy at the national capital, yesterday had satisfied two of his most ardent desires.

One was a look at Hollywood, which he received on "The Garden of Allah" set at Selznick International Studio. The second was a chat with Marlene Dietrich, at her dressing table on the same sound stage.

Baron Beyens was guest of David O. He declared the prime purpose of his journey to Hollywood was a view of the production side of pictures.

WOMAN TAKES STUDY OF FLY AS LIFE CAREER

Microscopic Tracing of Insect Reveals Vital Figures in Changes of Nature's Laws

For the past twenty-seven years, Edith Maynard Wallace has spent all her working days peering through a microscope and drawing or painting vastly enlarged portraits of various tiny objects.

And nearly all of those portraits have been of just one type of insect, the tiny winged creature known as the yeast fly or the vinegar fly.

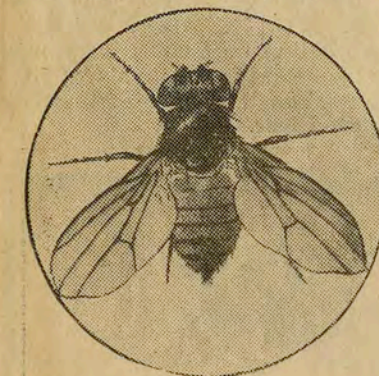

Does she consider her work monotonous? Emphatically no. On the contrary, she finds it very fascinating, for it is all being done with a purpose, and she understands the purpose.

It was twenty-seven years ago that Dr. Thomas Hunt Morgan, head of the biology department at the California Institute of Technology, and winner of the Nobel Prize for his work in genetics, first employed Miss Wallace to make a set of large drawings of objects viewed under a microscope. And it was a year later that he started his researches with the vinegar fly, and that Miss Wallace started to make a virtual career of drawing and painting the vinegar fly.

UNIVERSAL STUDY

Eight years ago Doctor Morgan came to Caltech, and he brought Miss Wallace with him. The research he started with vinegar flies is being carried on all over the world by former students and associates, and it is being continued at Caltech by Dr. Calvin Bridges under a grant from the Carnegie Institution in Washington, which also pays for the portrait work of Miss Wallace.

The objective of the work with the vinegar flies is the determination of the laws of inheritance, and it has already resulted in a vast increase in knowledge concerning these laws.

YEAST OR VINEGAR FLY Multiplies Rapidly

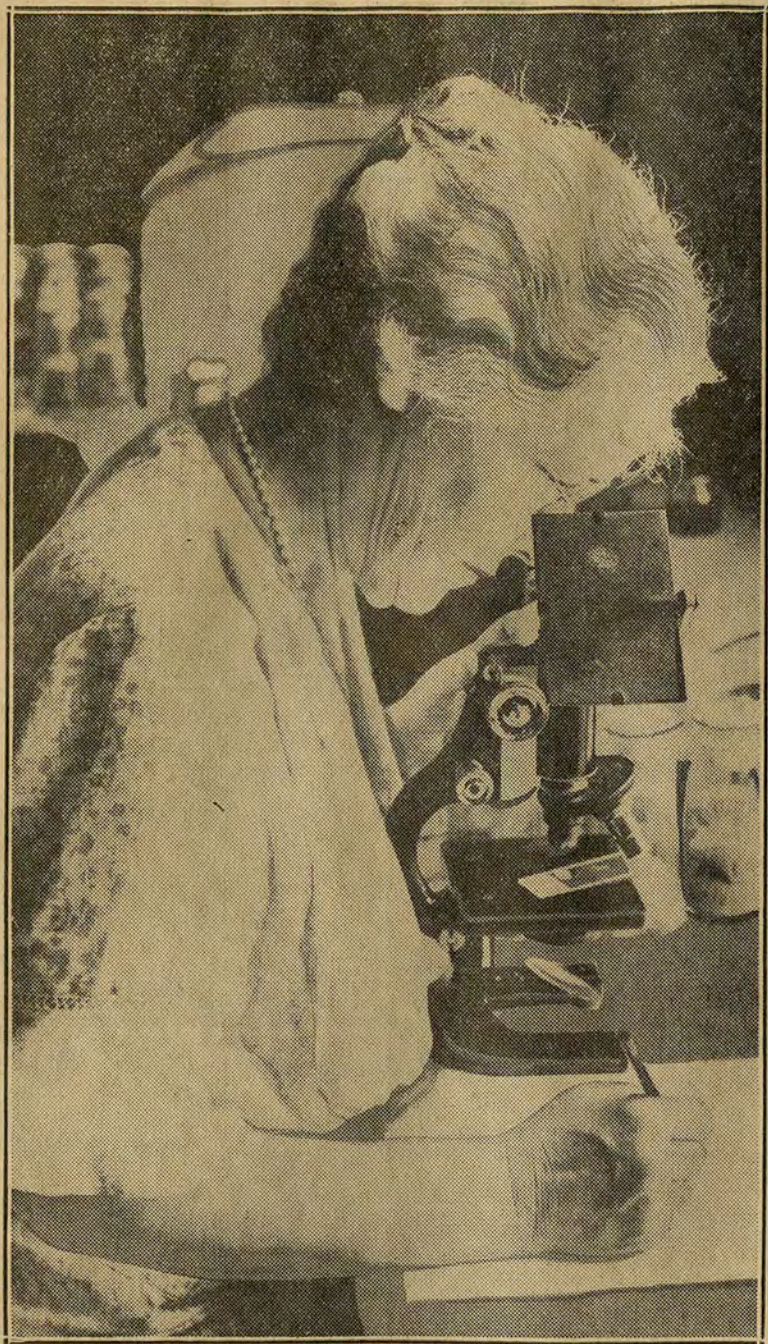

LIFE CYCLE SHORT

This particular insect was picked for the study because its life cycle is so short—thirty or more generations occurring in a year, with each female giving birth to from 200 to 2000 children.

Comparison of data from flies with data from human beings and from all sorts of plants and animals shows that the rules of inheritance are the same for all. Hence, the rules determined so rapidly and easily with flies can be carried over to all other forms of life.

"The universal validity of these laws," Doctor Bridges explained, "lies in the fact that the determiners of heredity

PLENTY OF WATER

WASHINGTON, June 28.—(Universal Service).—A "liberal" water supply for the ensuing season seems assured to the valley residents of California, who depend chiefly upon the watersheds of the Merced and Tuolumne rivers, according to findings of the National Park Service.

(the genes) are carried in and distributed by the chromosomes, and the structure of the chromosomes and the mechanism for handling them are practically the same throughout the living world."

Where does Miss Wallace come into the picture? Well, she makes the records of the succeeding generations of this continuous study and of their chromosomes. Photography was found unsatisfactory for this purpose. Drawings by ordinary artists, no matter how talented, would generally be almost valueless, for they have not been trained to observe the almost infinitesimal changes between all the apparently similar flies they would be drawing.

'God' Belief Held Vital to Teachers

WASHINGTON, June 28.—Vigorous denial that Representative Thomas L. Blanton's questionnaire to public school teachers pries into their religious beliefs is made by George E. Sullivan, Washington lawyer.

He insisted the questions asked are only:

"Do you believe there is a God?"; and "Do you believe in some form of religion?"

These questions, Sullivan asserted, will merely reveal who are and who are not atheists. He explained that for teachers an oath of office is required and that an atheist cannot take an oath.

GREEN WITH PEARLS USED BY DESIGNER

Evening Dress Has Rippling Skirt and Suggests What Should Be Worn in Summer

Cool-looking and alluring is the "sea foam" evening dress which today wins $5 for Donna Camber, 4315 Clayton avenue, in The Examiner's Tillie the Toiler Dress Design contest.

Miss Camber suggests green for the dress, which has a rippling skirt embroidered at the hem with tiny luster pearls and a sea shell of pearls accentuating the bodice.

Nancy Lee Coffman, 935 South Ogden drive, wins $3 for a yachting outfit of white crepe or light weight wool. The slacks and long sleeves are laced with blue on the outside.

Mrs. Dorothy D. Himes, 621 West Palm avenue, El Segundo, wins $2 for a wedding gown of white moire taffeta, designed with deep triangular folds on the skirt and two wide folds outlining the low neck.

These three, and all other designs winning daily prizes, will compete for the $100 merchandise award and will be entered in a national contest.

The contest closes tonight at midnight, but designs sent yesterday and today will compete for the two sets of daily prizes still to be awarded.

Then the final judges, Orry Kelly of Warner Brothers, Gwen Wakeling of Twentieth Century-Fox and Bernard Newman of RKO, will begin their job of selecting the $100 merchandise award winner. These famous stylists will complete the task as soon as possible so that the winner may be announced in a few days.

SEATTLE, June 28.—Trixie and her son, Buster, Boston terriers, frightened a burglar away from the home of their masters, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Johnson, Johnson told police.

SAN PEDRO CLOSES SHINE STANDS

"In the interest of future crime prevention—the 'wandering' 5-cent shoe-shine stands operated by juveniles in the streets of San Pedro must be stopped."

This was the edict handed to San Pedro juvenile authorities by Captain William Bachman, division chief, yesterday.

"During the past few weeks, we have had no less than a half-dozen boys, 14 to 16 years of age, brought into the station in connection with robbery and 'drunk rolling.' In each instance, these boys were, or had been, wandering shoe shine stand operators," said Captain Bachman.

"A check-up revealed that numerous youngsters have been employing this means of making a few nickels and dimes for spending money. In the course of their wanderings they have been found to frequent beer parlors, pickup unhealthy associations, beg and even steal from inebriates. We feel that, in some instances, the boys have maintained a healthy social standing in the course of their work, but the potential evils have been found too great to allow them to continue."

PHONE POLES EDIBLE!

Sues Company for Termite Influx

Houses make better food for termites than do telephone poles, according to the record yesterday in Superior Judge Robert W. Kenny's court.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Golsh of Walnut Park are suing the Southern California Edison Company for $5000 damages, claiming the termites abandoned one of the defendant's nearby poles and began gnawing on their home.

Judge Kenny ordered the plaintiff to amend his complaint to show whether the company had knowledge the termites were using the pole as headquarters.

Drinking Drivers to Be Shadowed

BOSTON, June 28.—Registrar of Motor Vehicles Frank A. Goodwin ordered all his examiners and investigators to watch all known drinking places frequented by motorists and prevent any person who had been drinking at all from driving. He further ordered that the licenses and registrations of such drivers be sent to the registry so that they might be taken "off the road." He told his investigators to obtain local and State police aid.

Merchant Seizes 'Check' Customer

WASHINGTON, June 28.—Giving chase to a customer he suspected of forging an indorsement to a $666 check, Robert Thompson, partner in Thompson Brothers, furniture dealers, tackled the fleeing man after a chase of two blocks and sat on him until police arrived. The prisoner gave his name as Thomas Joyner. Thompson said Joyner tendered the check in payment for $200 worth of furniture.

Woman Abandons Damage Suit

Case Settled Out of Court, Says Attorney

Instead of Ada Emery appearing this morning in calendar court to press her damage suit against the Los Angeles Railway Corporation, she probably will be counting her money.

Miss Emery claimed permanent injuries from a street car striking the machine she was driving at Ninth and Figueroa streets last April 22.

Attorney Bingham Gray, representing Miss Emery, stated yesterday a settlement had been made out of court, and that the case would be marked off calendar when called today.

Morgenthau Gets Mystery $2900

WASHINGTON, June 28.—Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau revealed he received $2900 in bills in his morning's mail enclosed in a plain white envelope with no accompanying letter.

The Treasury Secretary said he had no idea from whom the money came. He turned it over to the Treasury's "conscience fund." He said he also placed the matter in the hands of the Secret Service.

Over One Billion Pounds of Fish

SACRAMENTO, June 28.—Commercial fisheries took more than a billion pounds of fresh fish from California waters last year.

A survey completed by the Division of Fish and Game shows the total poundage was 1,061,409,834. An additional 111,129,729 pounds were caught off the West Coast, south of the international boundary and landed in San Pedro and San Diego.

SPORTS COATS

You can't be a shrinking violet and make a stir in sports circles this season! The dictum is definitely pattern and color...a lot of it or a little, as you like! Big, bold district checks, high colored overplaids, or more subdued houndstooth checks and Glens. They've taken over the universities, the younger sportsmen groups...and now even the more mature and staid executive-type of man, who ordinarily wears very conservative clothes, has turned to them! It's a fashion so casual, comfortable and all-around right for Southern California that whatever your age or your outlook you're out of the style picture (and the fun which goes with it) if you haven't a sports coat for the "Fourth"!

CITY PLANNING AUDITORIUM ON OLD FORT SITE

Proposes Huge Convention
Hall and Civic Building

Details of a proposal for construction of a Civic Auditorium—Convention Hall on Fort Moore Hill were revealed yesterday by the Los Angeles Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The auditorium, conception of Architect Dwight Gibbs, was submitted by the chamber's civic art committee as a revision to the Civic Center plan providing for the new Union Station.

The proposed structure would be located on the old Central Junior High School site on North Hill street, according to Oscar A. Trippet, chamber president.

Embraced in the plans are a concourse leading directly to the new Union Station and the two historic landmarks, the old Plaza Church and the old Plaza Park.

ACCESSIBILITY

It was declared that location of an auditorium on the Fort Moore site would permit direct approach on Grand avenue and a direct tie into the concourse of a Civic Center proper.

The hill would be terraced to provide ample parking.

Although final plans were not disclosed, it was understood that provision has been made in the project designs for accommodation of conventions, exhibits, sports events, shows and pageants.

Support of the chamber's proposal was given by Fred L. Mowder of the Central Business District Association, who said:

WINS SUPPORT

"We have spent thousands of dollars for the improvement of the central and north business districts of our city and are definitely behind the Junior Chamber of Commerce in its furtherance of the plan to open Hill street and Broadway and erection of a Convention Hall on the Fort Moore Hill site."

F. Johnson, vice president and chairman of the Downtown Merchants' Association, declared:

"The plan projected by the Junior Chamber has been approved by our organization and we feel it is extremely desirable that the old Civic Center area, including Fort Moore Hill, be reserved for the ultimate completion of that plan."

Gunmen Shoot Two by Mistake

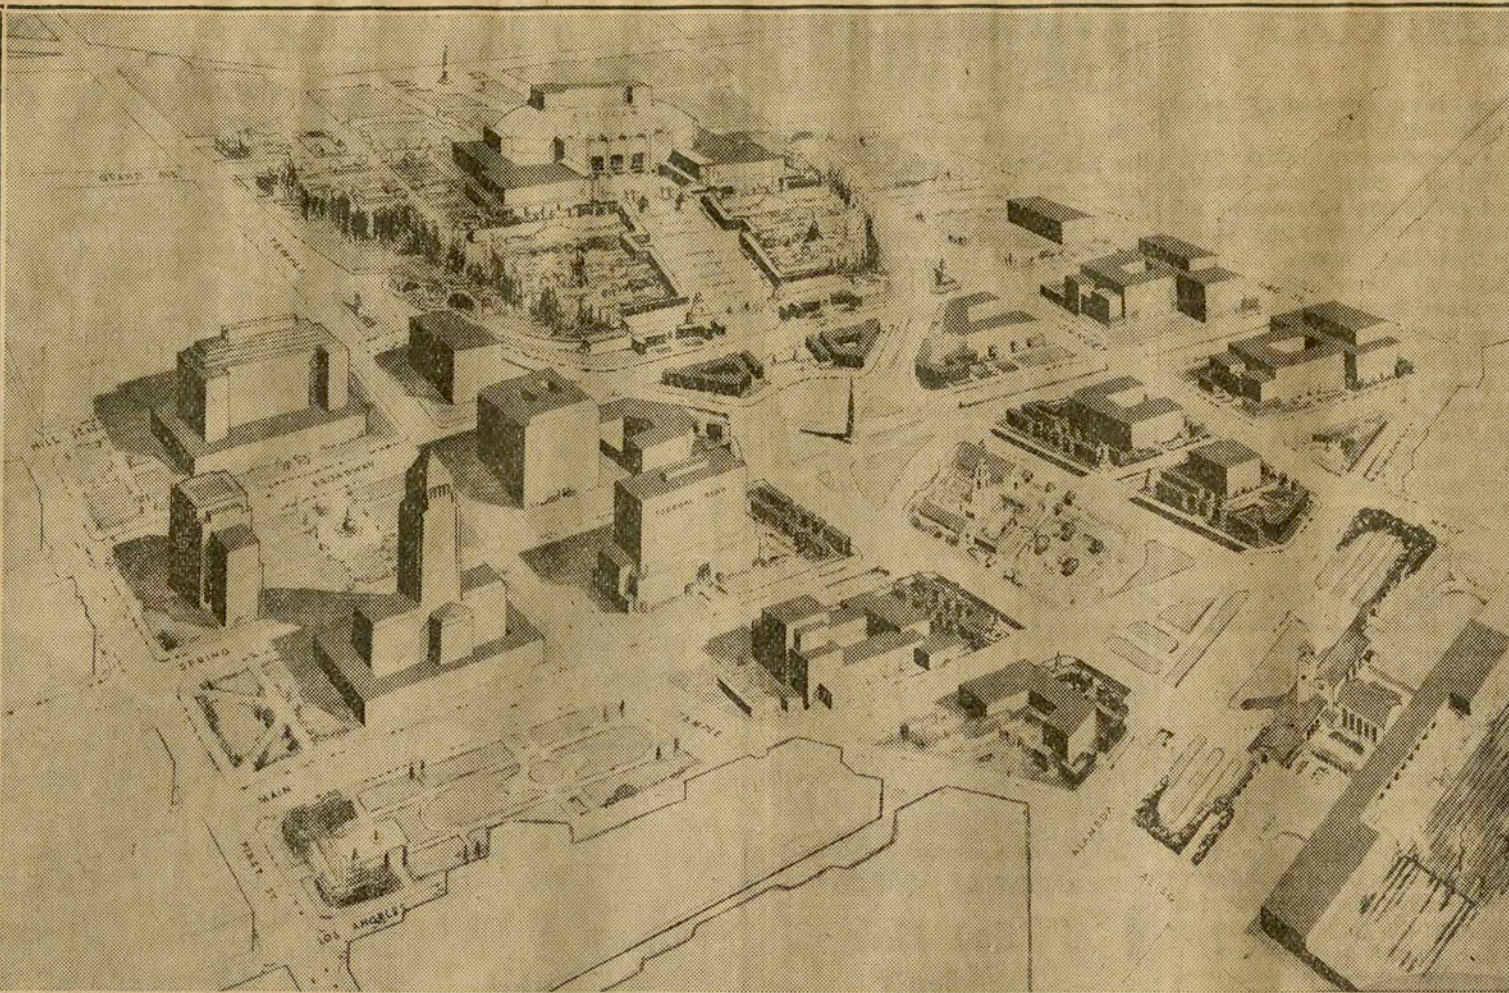

NEW YORK, June 28. — A young man and a boy were shot down on Flushing avenue, Brooklyn, by occupants of a speeding automobile believed to have picked the wrong target for their bullets.

Frank Lamdrow a knitting mill worker was strolling down the street from his home to meet a friend when the fusillade opened. He fell, shot in the back. The bullet came out through his right chest. At St. Catherine's Hospital he was placed on the critical list.

Frank Hefter, 7, playing with other boys, also fell a victim, shot in the right ankle. The boy likewise was taken to the hospital.

Lamdrow told police he knows of no enemies who might have sought him harm. He has no police record.

WORK STARTS ON NEW BEACH

First steps in the creation of a wide, new beach, which may extend more than a mile along Los Angeles' southwest ocean front, have been taken with the beginning of a sand fill at Hyperion south of Playa Del Rey, it was reported by Lindsay K. Dickey, chairman of the beaches committee of the City Playground and Recreation Commission.

Tons of sand being excavated from the dunes at Hyperion in preparation for the building of a huge sewage treatment plant as a Federal Public Works Administration project are being dumped upon the beach under direction of the City Engineering Department.

With Los Angeles municipal beaches jammed with millions of bathers during the summer and few close-in beaches available for expansion of the municipal strand, the Hyperion project is regarded as a most important development leading toward the creation of much-needed space for seashore recreation-seekers.

WAY CLEAR FOR OLYMPIC BLVD. IMPROVEMENT

Right-of-Way Acquired Between Bronson and Lucerne; Notice Served for Building Removal

With the city in possession of complete title to all necessary right-of-way for the Olympic boulevard "cut-off" between Bronson avenue and Lucerne boulevard, the way now is clear to hasten the proceedings for the actual improvement of this important link in the Olympic boulevard project.

Official notices to remove all buildings and structures from the 100-foot right-of-way acquired by the city so as to clear the way for the actual construction of the "cut-off" have been served upon the twelve property owners having buildings in the path of the proposed street improvement.

These notices were served by city right-of-way and land-agent, Robert F. Witter, after approval by Public Works Commissioner Robert M. Allan on behalf of the Board of Public Works.

All such buildings must be moved out of the way by July 28.

A number of the structures already have been removed it is explained by Commissioner Allan.

Plans for paving and improvement of the "cut-off" have been completed and are scheduled to be placed in the hands of S. V. Cortelyou, division engineer of the state highway department, early this week, possibly today, for approval, according to the announcement of City Engineer Lloyd Aldrich.

As soon as these plans have been approved by the state highway department, City Engineer Aldrich says that the Board of Public Works will be asked to advertise for bids for the construction of the improvement.

"The board of public works," said Aldrich, "should be in a position to advertise for bids for this important improvement within a very few days."

The "cut-off" improvement is to be financed with state funds it is explained.

The Olympic boulevard "cut-off" is to be 100 feet wide with a 74-foot roadway.

In furtherance of the entire Olympic boulevard project the City Council has ordered the drafting of a resolution of intention to establish set-back or building lines on that section of Olympic boulevard between Santa Fe avenue and Norton avenue.

In this connection it is proposed that the set-back line shall be established on the south side of the boulevard so that when the time comes for the widening of this section of Olympic boulevard to 100 feet it will be less costly to acquire the necessary right-of-way than it would be to acquire rights of way along the north side of the highway which is said to be more highly de-

College Film Brings Studio Contract

Really Serious Affair

ANDREA LEEDS
Will Start Work at M-G-M Today

Miniature Movie Pleases Screen Director

When Andrea Leeds was a student at the University of California at Los Angeles, a year ago, and appeared in a miniature movie for the college's dramatic club, she didn't know she was taking a screen test.

But today, on the strength of that amateurish reel, she starts work as the second feminine lead opposite Edward Arnold in the Samuel Goldwyn production of "Come and Get It."

The miniature movie, along with many others like it, found its way into the hands of Howard Hawks, who frequently runs off college-made movies in his home for a "laugh."

Miss Leeds, 19, tall and brunette, was anything but a laughing matter. Hawks, director of the Goldwyn picture, established her identity, sought her out, and gave her the contract.

Under this revised set-back plan, City Engineer Aldrich estimates that at least $172,000 can be saved.

Behold, the Tabernacle of God is with men, and He shall dwell with them, and they shall be His people.—Revelations 21:3

The 74th Congress---Gone but NOT FORGOTTEN!

THE Seventy-fourth Congress, which has just come to a close, will pass into history as the GREAT UNCONSTITUTIONAL CONGRESS.

EIGHT major acts of the New Deal passed by this Congress were declared unconstitutional by the Supreme Court.

Two major acts passed by that body—the Wagner Labor Relations and the Social Securities Acts—still await the decision of our high court.

The Seventy-fourth Congress—which has been nothing less than President Roosevelt's own private NEW DEAL BOARD OF DIRECTORS—has thus been branded by the highest court in the land as, in the main, INCOMPETENT.

The Seventy-fourth Congress must now also go before the people of the country with the added stigma of being the GREATEST WASTER OF THE TAXPAYERS' money in all the peace-time history of the republic.

It has appropriated the staggering sum of TWENTY THOUSAND MILLION DOL-LARS—billions of which have been and will be used for POLITICAL PURPOSES.

In the second session alone it appropriated TEN THOUSAND MILLION DOLLARS.

It has laid billions of dollars of added taxes on the people in a time of great hardship.

ITS very last act was the imposition of eight hundred million dollars more taxes, mainly on the very life-blood of corporations, their undistributed surpluses, under direct orders from the White House MUST-MILL.

We had a national debt in 1933 of twenty-two billion dollars. The Seventy-fourth Congress leaves behind it a staggering national debt of thirty-four billion dollars—and it is still GOING UP.

The Seventy-fourth Congress supinely delegated to the Secretary of State its treaty-making powers, as the result of which our export trade is near the vanishing point and we have become the dumping-ground of the world for goods with which our highly paid labor cannot compete.

IT placed in the hands of the President a fund of four billion eight hundred and eighty million dollars WITHOUT REQUIRING ANY ACCOUNTING FROM THE EXECUTIVE. This fund has notoriously become a POLITICAL SLUSH-FUND.

The Seventy-fourth Congress has passed act after act which but for the Supreme Court would have destroyed our democratic institutions and put us on a level with STALINISM.

In fine, the Seventy-fourth Congress—now gone but NOT FORGOTTEN—has been guilty of every act that no Democratic legislative body should ever be guilty of—that is:

Continuous and persistent DEFIANCE OF CONSTITUTIONAL LIMITATIONS. UNPARALLELED EXTRAVAGANCE.

DELEGATION OF ITS POWERS TO EXECUTIVE AUTHORITY.

Passing important measures without, in some cases, even KNOWING WHAT THEY WERE ABOUT.

CONFISCATION of the people's savings under a hypocritical "soak-the-rich" tax program.

The authorization of a senatorial committee that has SEIZED THE PRIVATE TELEGRAMS AND PAPERS OF CITIZENS in direct violation of the fourth article of the Bill of Rights.

A GROVELING SUBSERVIENCE to a President who even advised it to pass a law WHETHER IT BELIEVED IT TO BE CONSTITUTIONAL OR NOT.

A studied refusal to stop by law the POLITICAL DEBAUCHERY OF THE CIVIL SERVICE.

THIS is the record of the Congress of a party that was elected to do the DIRECT OPPOSITE of all these things.

The American people must decide whether its national legislative body is to be an AUTONOMOUS, CONSTITUTIONAL CONGRESS OF THE PEOPLE OR THE RUBBER STAMP OF AN ALIEN-MINDED CABAL.

Floundering Tugwell

ONE OF the colossal failures of a national Administration of many failures is the Resettlement Administration under the fumbling stewardship of Rexford Guy Tugwell, who teaches but who has never LEARNED anything.

The Resettlement Administration's objective was to resettle on farm-land destitute and low-income families in urban and rural sections.

It has resulted in such stranded projects as those located at Greensburg, Pa.; Reedsville, W. Va.; Elkins, W. Va.; Crossville, Tenn.; Groveton, Tex., and Hightstown, N. J.

In resigning as a Texas regional information adviser for the Resettlement Administration, Ralph G. Bray, in a letter to Doctor Tugwell, laid bare the incompetence of the textbook Cincinnati from Columbia University in these words, which were printed in the Denver Post of May 20:

"YOUR POLICIES THE LAST YEAR HAVE LEFT IN THEIR WAKE A GROSSLY MISDIRECTED AGRICULTURAL RECONSTRUCTION PROGRAM, HUNDREDS OF THOUSANDS OF DISILLUSIONED FARMERS, GENERAL ADMINISTRATIVE INCOMPETENCE, WITH RESULTANT RECKLESS SQUANDERING OF PUBLIC FUNDS.

"YOU HAVE SURROUNDED YOURSELF WITH A GROUP OF UTOPIAN SCIENTISTS AND TEMPORIZING PHILOSOPHERS, UTTERLY LACKING IN COMMON SENSE AND ANY PRACTICAL IDEAS OR PLANS TO EFFECTUATE A SOUND FARM PROGRAM.

"YOU HAVE PLACED A PREMIUM ON PERSONS WITH DOCTORS' DEGREES, WITH THE RESULT THAT THE ORGANIZATION IN WASHINGTON AND IN THE REGIONS HAS BEEN OVERLOADED WITH ACADEMIC MEN AND 'THEOCRATS,' DESPITE THE FACT THAT THIS IS A PRACTICAL FARM PROGRAM, OR IS SUPPOSED TO BE. YOU HAVE PURPOSELY DEVELOPED A LOT OF SHALLOW SENTIMENTALISM ON WHICH TO JUSTIFY THE PROGRAM, EMPHASIZING HUMAN DISTRESS IN SUCH A WAY TO EXPLOIT PUBLIC INTEREST."

Mr. Bray further charges Tugwell with PLANTING COMMUNIST IDEAS IN THE RESETTLEMENT ADMINISTRATION and the unrivalling of enough "red tape to harness the stars in the Pleiades and to confound Einstein."

Tugwell has been "muzzled" by President Roosevelt for political reasons. He should be dismissed from the office which he holds and given a SAFE-CONDUCT INTO THE COMMUNIST CAMP.

He WOULDN'T HAVE TO WALK FAR.

Scars of Traffic

AUTOMOBILES bearing traffic scars are mute witnesses against careless drivers. Crumpled fenders or dented bumpers are evidence of an accident that probably missed being a tragedy by a fraction of an inch or a split-second.

They reflect against the character and driving ability of some automobile drivers.

'Surprise! Surprise!'

Well, well! This IS a surprise!—And we all thought the nominees would be Roosevelt and Garner!

It just goes to show that you never can tell what will happen at a Democratic convention!

Seriously speaking, however, the REAL surprise is coming next November and the Democratic Donkey is going to be the most surprised party in history when all the votes are counted.

The coming election is NOT going to be a "cut-and-dried" affair, with pumped-up enthusiasm—

The real "Parade of the States" is taking a walk toward LANDON and KNOX!

WHAT'S THE ANSWER?

PIRATES

News Item: Lost Ship Believed to Have Been In Search of Pirate Gold.

1. Why is piracy governed by international law?
2. What regulations cover the capture of a pirate?
3. Who were among the first to practice piracy?
4. Who were the pirates of the Barbary Coast?
5. What factors gave rise to piracy along the Spanish Main?
6. What was the pardon-and-parole system?

ANSWERS

1. Piracy is deemed to be an especially heinous crime in that it offends not one particular nation, but rather mankind as a whole. For this reason, an offender may be held liable in the proper court of any country in which he is apprehended or to which he is taken.
2. While no special delegation of authority is required to wage war on pirates, it is specifically held that buccaners may not be put to death without benefit of trial. This ruling, of course, does not apply to pirates who suffer mortal wounds during apprehension.
3. In medieval times, Vikings, tall, bearded warriors of the North, who came swooping down in their fragile ships to harry the coasts of England, Ireland and France. Of the searaiders of the ancient past, there is ample record of the activities of the predatory Phoenicians; even the "Odyssey" makes mention of piracy on the high seas.

4. Carrying on their depredations until as recently as the third decade of the last century, the Moors of the Barbary Coast, making headquarters in the fortified ports of Algiers, Tripoli and Salee, set forth to exact tribute from all passing vessels. Great numbers of their victims were thrown into abject slavery.

5. The natural topography of the West Indies, with many hidden bays and inlets, combined with the fallacy of Spain's colonial policy in lending itself to piratical operations. With imported goods at a premium, colonial merchants were little liable to question the source of merchandise.

6. Coming into effect during the reign of the first Charles and continuing through the monarchy of George I, this system, arising from the inability of the forces of law and order to cope with organized piracy, granted free pardon to any pirate who would of his own accord renounce his nefarious manner of livelihood.

WASHINGTON SIDESHOW

By George Rothwell Brown

(Copyright, 1936, Universal Service)

WASHINGTON, June 28.—The one-hundredth anniversary of the death of the immortal "Father of the Constitution" passed unnoticed today in the capital of a nation which, but for him, might never have been born.

With the great charter of human liberty under a free government by and for the people, which his genius conceived and his unselfish spirit bequeathed to his countrymen, crumbling beneath the attacks of the sappers and miners of a new and sinister despotism, James Madison, as though he might have been some wretch, "concentrated all in self," instead of one of the most unselfish patriots the world has ever known, remains "unwept, unhonored and unsung." He is today, when he should be paid the homage of a grateful people, the "forgotten man" among a horde of petty theorists seeking to reestablish upon the blasted ruins of the Constitution of the United States the outworn philosophies of European absolutism, to the eternal eradication of which this inspired statesman dedicated a brilliant life of devoted service to country.

One hundred years ago today when the earthly career of James Madison ended at Montpelier, his plantation in Orange County, Virginia, a young but vigorous nation mourned his loss.

Today an anniversary that should be sacred, finds no word of praise spoken of him by those entrusted with the solemn duty of perpetuating the structure of government he did so much to rear.

The very mention of the name of Madison would cause a shudder among those who have lost reverence and respect for the Constitution which sprang from his mind. Hence it is not mentioned. But a deep silence can be more significant than eulogy.

President Roosevelt in his speech of acceptance in Philadelphia on Saturday night spoke of the "political and economic freedom for which Washington and Jefferson planned and fought."

But on the eve of the sesqui-centennial of the Constitution, in the city in which it was born in the minds and hearts of the founders of the republic, Mr. Roosevelt permitted no mention of the name of Madison to escape his closely guarded lips.

To New Deal philosophy it is obviously considered wise not to set the people thinking about the "Father of the Constitution," until the New Deal has finally accomplished its purpose to tear out of that charter of liberty the conception of government which James Madison wrote into it.

The Seventy-fourth Congress added to its many sins of commission the additional sin of omission in keeping the fame and name of the "Father of the Constitution" as deeply buried in oblivion as possible.

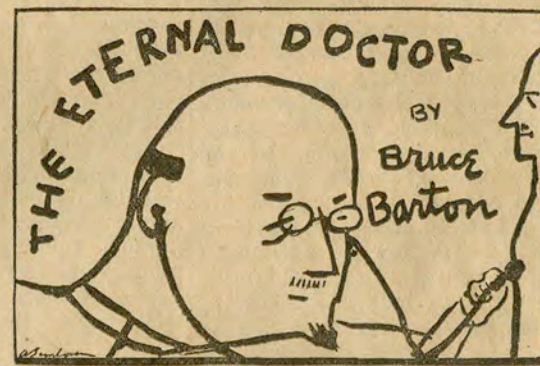

To acclaim Madison in the New Deal era would be to emphasize a political transition best accomplished under cover. His is a name for patriots and statesmen to conjure with.

Madison, fourth President of the United States, coolest, most dispassionate, and most practical, in the opinion of Henry Clay, of all the talented patriots of his generation, inspired the movement among the colonies which led to the constitutional convention of 1787.

As one of those at that convention most indefatigable in labor, he was the author of the basic idea of the Constitution, a national Legislature, a national Executive, and a national judiciary, existing side by side with the states. Since its origin in the intellect of Madison, it has been the admiration of mankind in every land, until now.

That conception has been steadily undermined by the New Deal during the past three years. But in its bold and unscrupulous Philadelphia platform, the New Deal, going a step farther, finally makes admission of its intent, if retained in power, to wipe out the functions of the states, as they have existed in the Constitution for one hundred and fifty years. The Philadelphia platform proposes to tear out of the organic law that basic idea of Madison which for a century and a half has made and has kept the United States a government of delegated powers, and maintained a free people the masters of their own destiny.

Since the new leaders of the nation refuse

I READ somewhere that a heroic statue was recently unveiled to Hippocrates in Athens. It is a fitting tribute, for there are few men in human history whose influence has lasted so long or is so sure to continue into the future. He was a philosopher as well as a physician. One of the most famous aphorisms in our language came from him, though few recognize it. Said he:

"Life is short, and the Art is long; the occasion fleeting; experience fallacious and judgment difficult. The physician must not only be prepared to do what is right himself, but also to make the patient, the attendants, and the externals cooperate."

HIS ENDURING fame, however, rests upon the Hippocratic Oath. "I swear by Apollo the physician, and Aesculapius . . . I will keep this oath . . . I will follow that system of regimen which . . . I consider of benefit to my patients, and abstain from whatever is deleterious and mischievous. . . . I will give no deadly medicine to anyone, if asked. . . . With purity and with holiness I will pass my life and practice my art. . . . Into whatever houses I enter, I will go into them for the benefit of the sick, and will abstain from every voluntary act of mischief and corruption. . . . Whatever I see or hear, in connection with my professional practice, or not in connection with it . . . ought not to be spoken of abroad, I will not divulge. . . ."

The oath closes with a prayer that, so long as it is strictly observed, the physician may be blessed of gods and respected of men, but that neither respect nor blessing shall dwell with him who violates it.

WHAT an achievement it is for a man to have set up a standard which has guided the thinking and practice of a whole profession for twenty-three centuries! It's a high standard and, to the eternal credit of physicians, a great majority of them make an honest effort to live up to it.

mention or eulogy to James Madison, the people themselves must act. When Congress assembles in January, the resolution of Senator Byrd of Virginia and of Representative Warren of North Carolina, providing for a national memorial to Madison in Washington, should be promptly reintroduced, and forced to a show-down vote.

The disgraceful neglect of Madison, in the city which visualized in steel and marble the Constitution which sprang from his mind, has continued long enough.

But there has never been a memorial of any sort erected here to Madison. One short street, a square long, bears his name. That is all.

The "Father of the Constitution" is worthy of a memorial equal in glory to those which acknowledge the immortality of Washington and Lincoln.

Madison ranks with these. Today his dust rests in a sadly neglected country graveyard in Virginia. That, too, should become a national shrine.

The people, if Congress will not act, should rise up in their indignation, and compel Congress to act.
